Hooten

HON. WILLIAM J. HOOD was born in Kingston, Tennessee, November 3, 1841, and is a son of James W. Hood, who was born in Knox county, Tennessee, in 1814, and who now resides in Roane county, in the same State. James W. for a long time followed steamboating, but of late years has been engaged in farming and mercantile business. He married Ann M. Bailey, who was born in Hawkins county, Tennessee, about the year 1825, and still survives, the mother of ten children, of whom W. J. is the eldest.

William J. Hood was reared in Tennessee on a farm, and in 1861 joined the Confederate army, Company A, Twenty-sixth Tennessee infantry, and fought with that command until after the fall of Fort Donelson, after which event the remnant of his company joined Company H, Third Confederate cavalry, and Mr. Hood was made sergeant-major of the regiment. In this command he served until 1864, when he was sent to north Georgia on a recruiting expedition, with Captain T. P. Edmondson, and they succeeded in organizing a battalion from fragments of broken-up regiments, and with this battalion he served as adjutant until the close of the war. He then went to Carter's Quarter, Murray county, Georgia, remained there until 1866, then went to Hartford, Kentucky, and for a year or more moved around the country and finally settled in Texas and began farming on a small scale, but now owns nearly four hundred acres of good land. In November, 1888, he was chosen to represent his people in the State legislature.

February 14, 1867, Mr. Hood married Miss Hattie Johnson, a daughter of James and Susan Johnson, of Tennessee. To this union there were born four children, named as follows—Lula, Edgar, Walter and Stella. Mrs. Hood expired April 7, 1878; April 10, 1879, Mr. Hood married Miss Mary Deatherage, daughter of John E. and Hannah (Campbell) Deatherage, of Texas, and this union has been blessed with four children—Hallie, Pearl, Muncie and Lellah. Mr. Hood is an Odd Fellow and a Knight of Honor and a Granger.

CHARLES LUTHER HOOD was born in Monroe county, Mississippi, January 3, 1849, and is descended from patriotic stock; his great-grandfather, Hood, was a soldier in the Revolutionary War, and his father, the late William J. Hood, a native of Alabama, was a gentleman of sterling worth and a prominent citizen and died in 1870. The mother of our subject was Sallie (Aikins) Hood, who died in 1887 at the age of sixty-six years.

At the age of four years C. L. Hood was taken by his parents to Arkansas, subsequently to Louisiana, and in 1866 they settled in Lamar county, Texas, where he has since resided, and where his parents both died. He has been a farmer and a stock raiser all his life, and he is an excellent citizen and a member of the Christian church. Mr. Hood was married in 1879 to Rebecca H. Baird, daughter of Gaines Baird. They have six children, named as follows—Katie, William G., Ella, James A., Luther and Nora.

ROBERT C. HOOTEN is a native of Marshall county, Tennessee, and was born September 22, 1843. He is the son of James Hooten, grandson of John Hooten and great-grandson of Elijah Hooten, who was a Revolutionary soldier. James Hooten began life as a farmer in Marshall county, Tennessee, where he took position as a leader in his chosen vocation. He was a Royal Arch Mason, a member of the Church of Christ, a devoted and consistent Christian, and a man of charitable impulses, always ready to help the needy. Mr. Hooten removed to Texas in 1846, settling in Hopkins county, where he resided during the remainder of his life. He was elected tax assessor and collector and notary public, and served as such for a number of years. He married Mary Bills, daughter of Daniel B. Bills, a native of Tennessee, by whom he had four sons, as follows—Andrew J., William A., Robert C. (our subject) and Thomas W. Of these only two are living. Mrs. Hooten was a member of the Church of Christ and a model Christian woman, "one of God's chosen people." She died in 1847. Mr. Hooten afterward married Susan J. Bills, a sister of his first wife, by whom he had six children, as follows—Martha O., Joseph, John R., Mary E., Mandy and Adelaide. Of these children only one is living. Mr. Hooten was again married, his third wife being Miss Louzina J. Price. To this union three children have been born, as follows—Kittie, Jimmie H. and Nancy; one of these died in infancy.

Robert C. Hooten is the third son of James and Mary Hooten. He began life at farming in Hopkins county (now in Delta county) and is one of the leading agriculturists of his region. He is also handling stock in connection with his farming, and is very successful in both lines. Mr. Hooten enlisted in the Confederate army in 1864, and was with the

Mrs. M. A. Hooten
Deceased Confederate
Pensioner. File No.
30574 Lampasas County,
Texas

Dear Mrs. Cope:

The records of this office show one Mrs. M. A. Hooten of Lometa, Lampasas County, Texas, executed an application for Confederate Pension in the State of Texas, on January 26, 1915. At that time she stated she was 72 years old-born in Vallepo County, Iowa. She had resided in Texas about 60 years.

She was the widow of Dr. J. W. Hooten, also shown as James Walker Hooton. Mrs. M. A. Hooten married J. W. Hooten on May 17, 1859 in Hopkins County, Texas. Mr. Hooten's death occurred July 21, 1900 in Lampasas County, Texas.

Mrs. Hooten stated her husband was a member of Company G, 23rd Texas Cavalry, Gould's Regiment and that he served about three years. On this information this office requested a report on the service record of J. W. Hooten as a Confederate Soldier. The report from the War Department, Washington, D. C. reads as follows:

"A return for March, 1865, of the 23d Regiment (Gould's) Texas Cavalry, C. S. A., shows one J. W. Hooton, private, Company G of said regiment, on daily duty as a teamster. His name has not been found on the only roll on file of said company, the muster roll dated February 29, 1864, nor has anything additional relative to him been found."

The application for pension of Mrs. M. A. Hooten was approved on the above report and she drew a pension under File No. 30574. The date of her death is not given.

No further information has been found on the Confederate Pension roll of the Hootens.

Yours very truly,

Dear Sir:

I am Minnie Edwards Cope, daughter of Allison Alonzo ~~Cope~~ Edwards, last of his children living. I want to join the Daughters of Confederacy and will have to have a record of my father service in Civil war or Confederate war between the states. He was born in Georgia Nov. 5th 1843, came to Texas with his parents at the age of 7 years. Enlisted in army at age 18 years, from Cass Co. Texas. Served 3 yrs & 6 mos. He was unmarried at that time, but later married, Sarah Susanah Hooton, daughter of James Hooton who also served I think 4 yrs. James Hooton was my grandfather. He married Mary Ann O'dell, McDonough, Henry Co. Ga. Feb. 4th 1845, came to Cass Co. Texas 1856. Enlisted in war — I don't know what date or where from, but Linden, is County seat of Cass Co. and he, grand father James Hooton lived near Avinger, Cass Co. & Hughes Springs Cass Co. Texas. As did my father Allison Alonzo Edwards. My father, father was named William Edwards. My fathers mother, Paulina (Tipton) Edwards. My father died March 6, 1912. He drew a small pension. At his death, my mother, Mrs. S. S. Edwards drew his pension which had increased to $25.00 per mo. I would like to have a copy of my fathers service record, also that of my grandfather James Hooton. they were private soldiers in some war with the states. I would like the dates of entrance when discharged, Rank - Division etc. etc. I think as well as I remember, my father was in Hookers division. I dont know the Captains name or any of the officers names. I was in your City, three years ago. Visited the Capitol to make enquiry about Mr. John Hedicks Children. I knew he was dead, but he was my 1st. school teacher. I was interested in his Children & knew he had been Comptroller. A lady in office gave me a name to whom to write for my father's war record, but I have misplaced it & neglected to ask for it sooner, so if you will please send me my father record also that of my grandfather I will certainly appreciate & thank you

TX

Sincerely,

Mrs. Minnie Edwards Cope

P. S.

I would appreciate these records as soon as possible please. Time is swiftly passing & we have no lease on our lives. I will soon be 80 years of age & can't figure on living very much longer, but I do want to join the D. A. R. & have a gun of my grand fathers, I wish to place in museum here.

Thanking you heartily,

Dear Ms. Vivian Hill Jordan:

While researching our "Hooten" line, I came across some information showing that you had a Littleton Hooten as one of your ancestors. My Hooten line is mainly in Tennessee, but I'm sure the Tennessee Hootens either came from Virginia or North Carolina and I'm trying to find the connections (famous last words....huh?? ha ha). I'm hoping that maybe you might have information to fill in some of the blanks?? I'll give you what information I have.

The furthest back I can trace so far has been Huldy (maiden name unk) Hooten born Dec.1839 in Tenn. 1880 Houston Co Tenn Census lists her as 48yr. + a widow son - James E. (Ernest??) Hooten b. April 1862 in Tenn

I would appreciate whatever Hooten information that you have and would be happy to pay for the copying and postage. My father and I even went down to Tenn back in July of this year and unfortunately picked the wrong week to go as it was "Country Fan Fare" and thousands of extra people were in Nashville that week. We circled around the State Library for over an hour and a half and couldn't get anywhere near it. To put it mildly, we were frustrated as we understand all the county libraries get their genealogical info from the state library. We drove to Waverly and researched their library....no leads and even drove to Clarksville as we heard they had a good genealogy library and still....no leads.

Thank you for your time. Another fellow family researcher.
Will be looking forward to hearing from you!!!

HOOTON

The second wife of Samuel Hooton[1], of Skegly, Nottinghamshire, England, was Elizabeth ------. She was born in 1600, and died eleventh month (January), 1671, at Jamaica, after a visit to her son Oliver, at Barbadoes.

She had great strength of character, and was a minister in the Society of Friends, (see sketch on next page). She survived her husband some years, and at least three of their children settled in New Jersey, among whom was Samuel Hooton[2], whose daughter Elizabeth[3] married Thomas Hillborn.

The deaths of Samuel and Elizabeth Hooton probably occurred at the home of their daughter, Elizabeth Hillborn, as they are recorded in Middletown Meeting Records, Bucks County, Pennsylvania.

H O O T O N

E L I Z A B E T H H O O T E N (Hooton) (d. 1672), quakeress, appears to have been middle-aged in 1647, when George Fox first met her in Nottinghamshire.

Fox describes her as a 'very tender woman' (Journal, ed. 1765, p. 6), and she is usually considered to have been the first person to accept the peculiar doctrines of quakerism. It was not until 1650, although she probably preached earlier, that she formally received 'the gift of the ministry;' she has the honor of being the first woman who was recorded as a quaker minister. She soon commenced to make ministerial journeys.

In 1651 she was imprisoned at Derby on complaint of having reproved a priest, and in the following year was imprisoned in York Castle for exhorting a congregation at Rotherham at the close of the service.

In 1654 she suffered five months imprisonment at Lincoln for disturbing a congregation. At Selston, Nottinghamshire, she was violently assaulted in 1660 by Jackson, minister of the village, because she was a quaker, although she does not appear even to have spoken to him.

In 1661, when more than sixty she went to America on a missionary journey, arriving at Boston in 1662. On account of the laws against the quakers she had considerable difficulty in obtaining food or shelter, and for visiting some quakers in prison, was taken before the governor, John Endicott [q.v.], who after insulting her sent her to prison. She was subsequently carried two days' journey into the forest and there left to starve. She managed to find her way to Rhode Island, obtained a passage to Barbadoes, returned to Boston, and after a brief stay came back to England.

Having procured a license from Charles II to settle in any of the American colonies, Elizabeth Hooten returned to Boston, where she attempted to settle, but found that the king's license was set at nought by the rules of the town.

She then went to Cambridge, where, because she would not deny her creed, she was thrown into a dungeon and kept without food or drink for forty-eight hours (a person who relieved her being fined 5£ for the offence). She was afterwards ordered by the court to be whipped through three towns, which was done in the depth of winter and with great severity. She was then again carried into the depth of the forest and left; she was enabled to find her way to a town, where she was befriended, and then left; after visiting Rhode Island, she returned to Cambridge, where she was again subjected to barbarous usage.

She returned to England and resumed her work as an itinerant preacher, but in 1665 she was committed to Lincoln goal for three months on a charge of disturbing a congregation.

Notwithstanding her age, she accompanied George Fox and a number of other Friends to the West Indies in N.B. Flowers is a widespread family name in South Carolina, where family names are frequently taken as given names, e.g. Flowers, McMasters, Fitzhugh, Ray, Marion, etc.

William Hooton (b.?-d.?) of Cheshire County, England. Probable range of his date of birth 1610-1640. He could hardly have died prior to ca. 1660.	Name of wife or wives, complete list of children, particularly any that may have migrated to the New World. Location of home(s) and gravesite.	Records in Cheshire County, England. Correspondence with Hootons located in Cheshire County and interested in genealogy.
Thomas Hooton, Sr., son of above. Was in a group of 114 passengers sailing in 1677 on board "Martha" to Virginia, presumably from Liverpool, England. Married Mary Lippencott of Shrewsbury, N.J. in 1697. Six sons: William (b.1698), John (b.1700), Thomas, Jr., (b.1702), Samuel (b.1713!), Joseph (b.1716) and Benjamin (b.1719).	A Thomas Hooton of Amherst County, Virginia, is listed in the (first) Census of 1790 as head of a household of 5 whites, no blacks. It seems unlikely he was either of the two mentioned in the column left. Thomas Jr. would have been 88 in this year, Thomas Sr. over 100. Perhaps Thomas Hooton of Amherst County, Virginia, is a son or even a grandson of Thomas, Jr. Children of Th. Jr. other than William, if any, unknown. Should seek out.	Records in Cheshire County, England. Correspondence with Hootons living in Cheshire County. Passenger lists. Cemeteries, church records, family bibles in Virginia, possibly in Amherst County. Mormon church records.
Thomas Hooton, Jr., son of above. Born 9/5/1702 in Virginia, d. 1775. Married Susan Green, related to wife of Vice President A. Stevenson.
William Hooton, son of above (?). Born 10/2/1775? in Virginia, d.12/?/1856 in Kentucky. On 11/15/1796 m. Catherine George (b. 1771 in Virginia, d.10/1/1857 in Kentucky). How many children this couple had other than Nicholas Hooton is unknown.	This William could have been Thomas Jr.'s son or even his grandson. On her chart, Mrs. Reid scratched out "Jr." after Wm's name and the birthdate 1775, which would be appropriate to Wm's marriage in 1796 (at age 21), birth of son Nicholas (1800) and death (1856) at age 80-81.	Census records 1790 through 1850. Cemeteries, church records, family bibles in Virginia, Kentucky, Illinois. Mormon church records.
Colonel Nicholas Hooton, son of above. Born 12/21/1800 in Kentucky-d.4/25/1891 in Heyworth, Illinois. In 1819 married Sythia Lisle (b.9/9?/1800-d.1/?/1877 in Heyworth, Illinois. Parents of Johnson Winifred ("Winn") Hooton and ....?	Children other than Johnson, if any, unknown. By dates and migration routes alone, Nicholas could have been father, uncle or cousin of Drewry Flowers Hooton, Sr., of South Carolina and, subsequently, Alabama.	Census records 1820 through 1870. Civil War records (N.B. "Colonel" may have been a courtesy title corresponding to the Spanish courtesy title "Don"). Other documents in Kentucky and Illinois.
Johnson Winifred Hooton, son of above. Born ?/?/1837 in Winchester, Kentucky-d.10/8/1877 in Heyworth, Illinois. On 9/23/1858 married Mary Jane Hankins (b.9/12/1835-d.10/?/1910 in Holder or Bloomington Illinois Hospital). Private in McClean Brigade (Union Army). Reported to have ridden 6,000 (600?) mi. down Mississippi to Gulf of Mexico and to have walked 600 mi. (or vice versa).	Descendents to third generation well documented and lineage being updated. Johnson is mentioned (?) on Civil War Memorial in Miller Park, Bloomington, Illinois. (N.B. Yes, in addition to Bloomington, Indiana, there are Bloomingtons in Illinois, Minnesota and California)	Mrs. R. S. Reid, Mrs. D. S. S. Hughes and others.

The town was incorporated in 1894, with M. J. Harvey, Mayor; W. W. Childs, P. F. Brown, J. P. McNeice and W. A. Andrews as councilmen. The school was first financed by the funds from County Board of Education, supplemented by tuition paid by parents and public subscriptions. Later on the finances were by the town council, which levied a school tax on Advalorum property. It is now handled by the board of school trustees levying a tax on the property of school district.

During the Civil War, A. J. Yates moved from Carrol County to this section and built a fine shoe shop and for many years made fine boots and shoes for ladies and gentlemen. He and A. J. Williams also conducted a large fruit nursery, and introduced the famous Yates Apple in this section. The town of Yatesville was named for Mr. A. J. Yates.

Yatesville is located by a noted Piedmont ridge, the waters from one side of which flows the "Echeconnee" Creek, emptying in Ocmulgee River. The other side flows into Tobler Creek, emptying into the Flynt River. On Tobler Creek was first built Hightower Mill, now called Tobler Mills.

This section of Upson County is noted for its fine farming and fruit lands, its forests and streams, its schools and churches, and noble yeomanry which still honors and revers the names and memories of the pioneer settlers of this highly honored section.

HOOTENVILLE AND LOGTOWN

Crepe myrtle trees rearing their proud pink blossoms to the sky, an occasional jasmine wafting heavy fragrance over the country-side, fig trees and crumbled chimneys bear mute testimony to the desolation that now envelopes the once thriving hamlet of Hootenville.

Situated in the lowlands of the 16th District, and no doubt thickly inhabited prior to 1824, the town was originally called Blountsville, supposed to have been named for John Blount.

When Henry Hooten purchased large tracts of land there, including the post office, he had the name changed to Hootenville, due to the fact that Jones County had a post office called Blountsville and confusion frequently resulted.

During the eighteen thirties this village boasted a hotel, several barrooms, a number of grocery and dry goods stores, a harness shop, blacksmith shop, et cetera.

Old Blountsville Academy was built before 1838 and here Prof. O'Hara instructed ambitious and dutiful youngchins. He had two daughters; the family were Irish Catholics, as the name indicates, and tradition says that he was a relative of Theodore O'Hara, the Southern poet.

Harmony Church, also built about the same date, has been twice moved, and is now used as a house of worship on the road near the home of Simon Brooks. It is needless to state that this was a Primitive Baptist church, since most of the early ones in the county were, but the structure has the unique distinction of containing the rough wooden table upon which the youthful John B. Gordon, a lad of about ten years, stood to make his confession of faith at one of the annual camp meetings.

In 1839 John Blount and Louis Cantilo sold to David Buff, sixty-three acres beginning at Battles Store, which was located at the crossroads. One of these roads led to Macon, the other to Gray's Ferry. Hootenville was for many years a relay station where the stage coach horses were changed and passengers found refreshment.

In 1848 Henry G. Smith sold to Alexander Fitzpatrick one house and store in the town of Hootenville for $450.00.

Richard Resfess and Hiram Chalfinch, Revolutionary soldiers, were early residents of the town. Other families who resided there were the Grants, Atwaters, Mays, Cords, McMichaels.

In the district lived Dr. Green Ferguson, Dr. Augustus C. Hawkins, Dr. Robert Burt, Cargill Wallace, a merchant, Ichabod Davis, William Barron, a merchant, William Hale, William Beall, Benjamin Blow, Edward F. Ritcher, Mrs. Nancy Roberts, Daniel G. Worsham, Ephrium Ivey, William G. Williams, Jonathan Stanford, A. M. T. Carson, Isaac Chatfield, John G. and Nathaniel Raines, the Allens, Josiah Spivey, Davis Dawson, John Webster, Dr. Robert Knox, the very wealthy Nathaniel F. and Allen MacWalker and others. J. T. Knight was a merchant at Pound near Hootenville from 1882 to 1894.

However, by 1850 and 1860, many of these families had moved to the town of Thomaston or had left the county entirely. There remained a blacksmith shop, a wood shop owned by Richard Williams and where Oliver Smith worked, The Grant Home where travelers were entertained, a grist mill and a grocery store, but the town was fast becoming deserted and during the War Between the States and following this era, it became the victim partially of the "lean years" and partially of inocuous desuetude.

Not far distant at Swifton was the factory owned by the Williams, then the Respess' and Walkers and later by George P. Swift. The factory was operated for making sheeting and thread until the time it was burned about 1892. A Mr. Wheaton at one time owned an interest in the factory. Fielding S. Rucker was general manager of the mill.

At Waynmanville were found the Wests, Butts, Clarys, Cunninghams, Tomlins, Prators, Boyts, Partains, some of whom are now represented there by their descendants.

Logtown, about seven miles from Hootenville, did not reach its prime until about 1850 at which date, we are told by William Wheless, it equalled Thomaston as a shopping center. All the grocery and dry goods stores sold liquor, wines, and various intoxicating beverages, but

HISTORY OF BUTTS COUNTY GEORGIA 1825–1976

Compiled by

ATLANTA

confided their intimate affairs, and he was sympathetic in their problems for he had been at the birth of their children and had brought back many from death's shadows.

His patients were his real friends. He did not hesitate to use homely remedies of red oak bark, mustard plasters, catnip tea or orange juice, if they could bring about desired results. He lived at a time when people believed that most physical ills were traceable to too much blood, and when it was thought necessary, he bled his patients.

When springtime came with its attendant diseases, he advised that the children drink sassafras tea or be dosed with sulphur and molasses. In winter he urged the mothers to clothe their children in linsey and warm underwear. He jogged around the community in a gig or a buggy, or on horseback with his saddle-bags filled with first aid remedies.

He was in no hurry to leave when visiting the sick. If sufficiently urged, he might spend the entire day discussing current events with the head of the family, yet he was not considered neglectful of his duties. It is true that he sometimes lost a patient with "cramp colic," but then even a doctor's ability has its limitations and he suffered no pangs of conscience.

The family physician of long ago was a versatile being, and on him the community relied for much beyond the pale of his profession. In the present days of specialization his passing is greatly to be deplored. He seldom accumulated wealth, but when finally old age and death ceased his labors, he left behind an honored name and a record of good deeds. In the early history of Butts County the medical practitioners were among the foremost men of affairs.

Among the early resident lawyers were Walter F. Knight, David J. Bailey, Alexander H. Daugherty, J. and W. Burney, Stark & Pettitt, James H. Stark, Henry Hendrick and McKibben & Wright.

The first minister of the Gospel in the town was Remembrance Chamberlin, a Presbyterian. His home, later known as the Van McKibben residence, was across the street from the present First Methodist Church. His body was buried on the lot of his home until the 1890s, when work on the streets of the town caused it to be re-interred in the Jackson cemetery.

Other ministers of the Gospel in the early days who lived in the town of Jackson and in the county were (1827) John Reeves, John Simmons, James Clayton; (1828) William Mosely, William Byars; (1829) James Reeves; (1832) Newton Randle; (1833) James Carter, John Almond, Jason Greer, John S. Ford, John M. Pearson; (1834) Allen Cleveland; (1836) Tilman D. Oxford, Barnabas Strickland; (1837) Francis Douglas; (1838) W. A. Florence; (1840) Ephraim Strickland, Vincent R. Thornton; (1842) Joseph Goddard; (1843) M. Lowery; (1844) W. Jarrell; (1845) James Smith; (1848) John T. Kimbell; 849) W. G. McMichael, O. C. Gibson, David L. Duffy; (1850) Daniel God-ırd, Willis Jarrell, Claiborn Trussell, J. J. M. Mapp, Copal Raiford; (1851) ichael D. Gaar, J. Lawrence King, J. F. N. Huddleston; (1852) John Skipper; 855) J. W. Bassett; (1856) John Mullens, Henry Twiggs; (1858) H. L. Dicken, ashington Thomas; (1859) John M. Mayo, Absolem Ogletree, James G. imbell, James P. Lyon; (1860) George F. Pierce, W. M. Biggers, J. Scott; 861) William Jeff Speirs, Adiel Sherwood; (1863) A. Van Hoose; (1864) H. Henry; (1865) J. R. Willis, N. N. Edge; (1866) William W. Oslin, W. L. eaver, W. T. Read, J. G. Woolsey; (1867) Enoch M. Hooten, P. G. Reynolds, . P. Harrison, W. G. Oxford, Washington Baird, John Goodman; (1873) Clark ilmore, Andrew J. Freeman, W. P. Pledge, J. R. Smith, A. W. Rowland, James eard; (1886-1888) J. W. Beck, Alex Atkinson, James G. Kimbell, W. cMichael, J. C. Burton—all Baptists, and J. J. N. Kenny and T. Sassinett, both ethodists.

The first church service held in what later became a part of the town was nducted by Mrs. Mary Williams Buttrill, wife of William Buttrill, a Revolu-ionary soldier. The group worshiped in a log house which her slaves built near e east gate of the Jackson cemetery. With her seven sons, the four Harkness ys, and others in the community, services were conducted several years fore the town of Jackson was organized.

On November 17, 1845 the justices of the inferior court noted the streets in e southwest corner of the town were worthless and were used only as a ssageway to the graveyard. A more suitable street could be opened, so hn B. Thurman and John W. McCord, two of the justices, were instructed to ll the land occupied by the said streets upon such terms as they might think asonable and right, if it should appear from the incorporation Act that "there nothing to hinder such negotiations."

At the July 1846 term of court the justices ordered the commissioners of ckson to open a street to the graveyard which would lead from the main reet past Lawshe's. If they could not do it, then the Commissioners of the 2th District would.

On November 10, 1849, the corporate limits of the town were extended to clude the property of John Andrews, David J. Bailey, and Allen G. Frambro.

In the 1880 Federal Census of Butts County, Jackson is listed as a village ith 38 dwelling houses and 41 families.

The Jackson News of September 20, 1882, reprinted an article from the reenback Cause published in Atlanta. An extract from the former follows:

> The building "boom" in Jackson has opened up in good earnest. Twenty buildings are now in course of construction mostly business houses, and others anticipated, car loads of lumber and building material coming in

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH OF JACKSON

When the town of Jackson was incorporated, the judges of the inferior court granted two acres of land to each of the three church societies, Baptist, Methodist, and Presbyterian.

There is mention of a Baptist church in existence in 1828, but no record seems to have been preserved showing by whom it was established.

The Baptists received a grant of land located on the west side of Oak Street, a little northwest of the present Presbyterian church. It is said that as they were not pleased with the location of their designated lot, they disposed of it and united in worship with the Presbyterians, until a satisfactory location and organization could be established.

Years later, feeling a strong desire to organize a church of their own, a group of Baptists met in the Jackson Presbyterian Church and constituted the Jackson Baptist Church on November 27, 1851. The first church minutes record the organization:

> After an appropriate sermon by Brother Purifoy, a Presbytery was formed by the following brethren: Caswell Purifoy, J. T. Kimbell, and D. L. Duffey, after which the following brethren and sisters constituted a church: John Andrews, Henry Burford, William Duke, Henry Hendrick, James W. Harkness, C. R. Malone, John McMichael, Sr., William G. McMichael, S. B. Prentiss, Frederick Stewart, Jefferson Warlick, Sarah Andrews, Mary Bledsoe, Lucy Buttrill, Nancy C. Duke, Martha Duke, Eliza Hendrick, Harriet Malone, Ghitty McMichael, Martha McMichael, Emily McMichael, Mary Prentice, Margaret Stewart, Nancy Warlick.

The church in conference at the first meeting adopted a constitution and 13 rules of decorum. The Rev. W. G. McMichael was chosen the first pastor at a salary of $200 per year. S. B. Prentiss, F. S. Stewart, and John McMichael, Sr. were elected deacons. Henry Hendrick was appointed clerk. The fourth Sunday of the month was decided upon as Meeting Day, with conference scheduled for the preceding Saturday.

Two days after organization the members met again in conference and a committee was appointed to consider the building of a church or repairing the old Presbyterian church.

The building committee was listed as John Andrews, F. S. Stewart, and John N. Thompson, three members of the church, with James R. McCord and John Goodman.

At the May meeting in 1864 Dr. Adiel Sherwood preached. The distinguished preacher and author of the Gazetter of Georgia had purchased the Head home near Indian Springs in the previous year.

Only a few weeks had elapsed since Sherman's army had passed through the county and left in its wake death and destruction. Starvation stared into the faces of those left, but their spirit was not conquered.

The war ended in April 1865. By November all colored members who wanted letters were granted them. In 1868 the Negroes, having organized themselves into a church, were granted the privilege of using the church house for their meeting "provided they did not choose a preacher of the radical party." They used the church until 1872.

In 1870, Sabbath Schools had been organized in many churches and in July of that year a Sabbath School celebration was held in the church.

In November 1882 a committee appointed to investigate the titles to the church property reported "the house and lot were owned jointly by the Presbyterians and this church, one half interest each." J. W. Peck and W. R. Thaxton were chosen to confer with "the brethren of the Presbyterian and buy their interest if possible."

On July 26, 1884 the Rev. W. G. McMichael resigned after 33 years of continuous service. He was followed by the Rev. Alexander Atkinson, who served from November 1884 to February 1886. The Rev. David E. Butler came in February 1886 and served only four months because of illness. He was succeeded by the Rev. E. M. Hooten, who remained through 1892. During the latter's pastorate $3000 was raised for construction of a new church on Third Street. This white frame structure, which stood on the lot adjacent to the present church building, was used until 1914.

The first Sunday School report, in 1891, listed 8 teachers, an enrollment of 136, and L. D. Watson as superintendent.

During the next 20 years the church had George H. Carter, C. W. Durden, Dr. W. A. Nelson, Beverly Lacy Hoge, and Calder T. Willingham as pastors.

In 1897 the church became a member of the Kimbell Association, which was organized October 27, 1897 at County Line Church. The church membership was recorded as 173 members.

About 1905 additions were made to the church and a pastorium was erected.

The church minutes of 1912 record B.Y.P.U., W.M.S., and Y.W.A. organizations. In May 1912 a committee was appointed to discuss with the architects plans for a new church. The corner lot next to the existing building was bought as the site of the new church.

ENOCH M. HOOTEN.

Rev. ENOCH M. HOOTEN is the son of James Hooten, a Virginian by birth, and Susannah Kidd, a native of North Carolina. His father was a man of more than ordinary native intellect, powerful will, untiring industry, but of limited education. His mother was a woman of remarkable piety and decision of character.

The parents were strict Presbyterians, and the son was brought up in that faith. At fourteen years of age he was enabled to claim a personal hope in Jesus, and united with the Presbyterians, leading, ever afterwards, a consistent Christian life.

His father was a farmer by profession, and reared his son to follow a farmer's life, until he reached the age of sixteen, having been able to afford him but one year's schooling. At sixteen, the son, in consideration of his personal freedom, voluntarily relinquished all interest in his father's estate, and, deeply impressed with the necessity of an education for himself, made that the predominating aim of his life.

Against difficulties and obstacles, apparently insurmountable, he battled, until he had acquired what may be denominated a fair education and had become a man of varied and extensive reading. For the educational training of one year he was indebted to the liberality of his Presbyterian friends.

At the age of seventeen he felt it to be his duty to preach, and in the fall of 1855, he was received as a candidate for the ministry by the Flint River Presbytery, at Newnan, Georgia. At that time he deemed affusion only to be Scriptural baptism, and was surprised to hear the Presbytery then in session decide that it was unnecessary to sprinkle a Baptist lady converted to Presbyterianism, even though she desired it, because in being immersed by a Baptist, she had already received Scriptural baptism. But what he considered most remarkable and inconsistent was, that this position was maintained by the very Presbyterian minister who had converted the lady, by convincing her that Presbyterian views in regard to sprinkling, were correct, and Baptist views, in regard to immersion, wrong. He reasoned that if the Baptists are wrong and the Presbyterians right, the lady ought to have been sprinkled; but, if immersion is Scriptural and valid baptism, as the Presbytery decided, logically, sprinkling is not baptism. He resolved to investigate the subject of baptism for himself, and this he at once commenced to do. The conclusion at which he arrived was in accordance with the views of Baptists, and he therefore decided that a man with such convictions should not become a Presbyterian minister, which idea was thenceforth entirely abandoned by him. His sentiments, proclivities and educational bias; his prejudices against the Baptists; his pronounced views in opposition to restricted communion; and his conclusion that baptism in itself was not essential to salvation, all combined to retain him within the pale of the Presbyterian denomination, and such he remained for fourteen years, living a consistent Christian life, in the eyes of the world, and earnestly seeking the best earthly boon—a good education.

The war came on, and he joined the ranks of his country's defenders, and fought unscathed amid storms of shot and shell, until smitten down at the battle of Fredericksburg. While lying in the hospital at that city, helpless and dangerously wounded, light came to him in answer to prayer, and he was enabled to discern the path of duty. The true Scriptural relations between faith and baptism, between baptism and church membership, and between church membership and communion were clearly discerned, together with his own personal duty, as a Christian, to preach the everlasting Gospel, and he promised obedience to the Lord, should he ever be permitted to reach home again. This occurred in 1863. The Lord brought him back to Georgia, although for many months he was confined to his bed and was entirely helpless, on account of his wound, and even when he was baptized by Rev. W. G. McMichael, on the 17th of September, 1865, he was compelled to use crutches. His first sermon was preached on the fourth Sunday in the following November, and, about one year afterwards, namely, on the 17th of November, 1866, he was ordained to the full work of the Gospel ministry. The presbytery consisted of Revs. W. G. McMichael, John Goodman and J. G. Kimball.

For the last fourteen years he has been faithfully serving various churches in Monroe, Spalding, Meriwether and Pike counties, within a radius of fifty miles, for periods ranging from two to eight years, having, during those fourteen years, baptized over six hundred persons and constituted two new churches. All the while, too, he has been suffering from injuries received in battle, and he has been known to walk six miles with a crutch and stick rather than miss an appointment. His labors have been eminently arduous, and self-denying. As a preacher, he is very clear and forcible, and while always a free and graceful speaker, he not unfrequently grows eloquent in his delivery. His discourses are didactic in style, appealing more to the reason and judgment than to the fancy, feelings or sympathies: consequently his sermons are usually doctrinal; yet he is never accused of being dull in the pulpit. For several years he has been Clerk of the Flint River Association, much to the satisfaction of his brethren. He has, also, been successfully engaged for a number of years in teaching, and was, at one time, the efficient Superintendent of Education for Monroe county.

Not only was the Milner High School built up by him, but he erected the building for the school at his own expense, and, for two years, charged nothing for its use.

In person, Mr. Hooten is above the medium size, and well proportioned, with blue eyes, auburn hair, and fair complexion. A man of fine conversational powers, full of good humor and pleasantry, he commands the confidence and esteem of all those among whom he has lived and labored. Self-denial and toil have marked his life and his work for the Master, the height of his ambition being to benefit his fellow man and make his exertions redound to the honor and glory of God and to the advancement of His cause.

Mr. Hooten was married to Miss Sarah C. Shaw, in 1856, at the residence of her father, in Jasper county, and the union has proved a very happy and fruitful one, twelve children having been born to them, all of whom are living but one, and all of whom have been educated to books and to labor alike, that they might be the better fitted for any station in life.

One of our ablest Georgia pastors, Mr. Hooten has, in his day and generation, proved himself a workman in the Master's vineyard worthy of the highest esteem, and a most useful and successful yet modest and unassuming preacher and man.

JESSE R. HORNE.

Rev. JESSE R. HORNE was born in Halifax county, North Carolina, in 1806. He moved to Georgia in his boyhood, and joined a Baptist church about the year 1830. He entered the ministry in 1850, and constituted many churches in Houston, Dooly and Pulaski counties. He was Moderator of the Houston Association for several years previous to his death, which occurred in April, 1872. He had only the advantages of an ordinary English education, having been compelled for the greater part of his youth to labor on the farm. He was a highly acceptable preacher to the masses of his co-laborers in agricultural

HOOTEN

James Hooten born 1790 in North Carolina and his wife Susannah Kidd came from South Carolina as a frirst settler in Henry County Georgia. He settled on Island Shoals creek in Beersheba District, about where the known Moses Hooten place is. (Ref: Tax Digest and court records.)

1850 Census records of Henry County show that there were several heads of Hooten families; but James Hooten was the oldest; William and Thomas Hooten next.

James Hooten, Sr. did not make a will. He deeded property to Moses and Littleton Hooten but did not name them as sons. He also deeded property to son-in-lawFRances Hayes in Newton County Georgia for love and affection.

Several older Hooten descendants have been interviewed but none know or have established James Hooten lineage. From the many Hootens who were probably his children, he must have had a large family.

It is to be remembered that his sons were of the age to have served as confederate soldiers and some could have been killed leaving no family records.

The following Hootens - are known to be the children of James Hooten, Sr.:

1. William Hooten born 1814 m Margaret Brown and they were the parents of Samuel P. Hooten, William A. Hoooten - The grandfather of Amie Hooten and a large family. Information from a daughter of S. P. Hooten, Mattie who married Will D. Thrasher and now deceased; - is that the three brothers who were grandfather William, and and his brothers Moses and Enoch Hooten were the ones that she know to be brothers.

2. Moses Hooten (C. L. Elliott's great grandfather). His grandchildren can give information on him but no farther back.

3. Enoch M. Hooten born 1838 married 1856 Sarah Shaw of Jasper County Georgia. He was a Baptist Minister who lived in Pike County Georgia. He had a large family. James Ernest Hooten of McDonough was one of his descendants.

4. James Hooten, Jr. who married Mary Ann Odell. He is given as a Jr. No records besides 1850 census are found on him. Is this the Hooten line of James W. Hervey who is seeking information? If so, I would like to know if Littleton and James Hooten, Jr. and others left Henry County and went to Texas.
(Check census records in Ala. I believe he moved from Henry Co. Ga to Ala.)

5. Jincy D. Hooten was a child of James Hooten which is certified from court records. Jincy D. Hooten 1841 -1863 married 1856 Frances M. Hayes of Hayston, Newton Co. Ga. James Hooten deeded them land for love and affection.

Parmelia Hooten who married Phineas Fields, born 1819 - died 1904. A Granddaughter, Miss Ethel Fields knows that she was a relative of the Henry County Hootens, but does not know who her father was. If she married in 1844 she was one of the older ones and probably the daughter of James Hooten, Sr.

A daughter, Elizabeth, married Pollard Woodward. A son, John Woodward, survives.

[illegible] Then why should he longer tarry in this sin-cursed world? God knows best and righteously took him to his everlasting reward. We recollect the many pleasant moments spent with him and his family, and our discussions of the truth, that we might know the truth; also his great patience in suffering, and his hearty sanction when his watching mother said, "Son, God's grace is sufficient," and ere tears of sorrow freely flow, we look beyond all earthly scenes to the joys and triumphs of eternity, to the ever-flowing river of life, to the shining pavements, the golden harp, and the never-fading crowns reserved in heaven for the children of God. Our hearts are comforted, and we press on to that heavenly home. May God richly bless his family, and prepare them for a happy reunion where sorrow and parting are unknown.

Farewell, dear brother, till we meet in our Father's house. There we hope to join you again in praise and song services to our God and Father, that shall have no end, and there we will enjoy forever the Christian's union, fellowship and love.

DOMINICK.—Sister Minnie E. Dominick, daughter of Bro. E. M. Hooten and wife of Bro. G. D. Dominick, after a severe illness of three months, died at her home in Zebulon, Ga., June 6th, 1896, aged 30 years. In 1881 she professed Christianity and united with the Baptist church at Hebron, Pike county. In her youth at home and at school she was obedient, kind and affectionate. She was a pious, consistent Christian, a devoted companion and faithful, loving mother. Her sweet, noble qualities endeared her not only to her household, but to all her neighbors and acquaintances. It was her desire to live and bear her part in training up her children, and to do good, but she was perfectly resigned to the will of her Savior, in whom she ever trusted.

To her husband and two little girls, her relatives and her large host of friends, her death is a sad bereavement, but we must yield to the will of our Heavenly Father, assured that our loss is her everlasting gain.

A FRIEND.

LEWIS.—H. C. and Cary Lewis These two faithful disciples of Jesus were born the same year, 1812, and died nearly the same date, she on May 3d, and he on June 12th, 1889. They were married in the year 1830, and soon after were both baptized into the fellowship of Sharon church, Henry county, Ga., by Benjamin Wilson. Sister Lewis was born in S. C. and when quite a child removed to Henry county, Ga., with her parents James and Susannah Hooten. Bro. Lewis was born in Jasper county, Ga., but was raised in Henry county, both raised in the same neighborhood and spent their lives together. Bro. Lewis was made a deacon of Sharon church, when a young man, and about 1850 he was licensed to preach, and was a zealous Christian from the time of the conversion until the end of his life. In 1851 or '52 they removed from their first home and settled 4 miles east of McDonough, Ga., and were instrumental in securing the constitution and building up of the now flourishing church, Bethany. They gave the land on which the house of worship was erected. Their liberality and piety contribute much to its prosperity. These two aged Christians were known to the writer for about 50 years—and they lived and passed away having the confidence of all who knew them. Their house was open to all, and many a tired preacher of different denominations found rest and comfort under their hospitable roof. Theirs was called the preacher's home. For 3 years Bro. Lewis was entirely helpless, but it is said that not a murmur escaped his lips. Sister Lewis was sick a very few days. It was a scene never to be forgotten by those who witnessed the death of Sister Lewis—the affection of this aged man for his wife, he wanted to go with her, and had to wait but a few days. Together in life's long journey, together in Christian belief and work, almost together in the struggle of death, side by side their bodies sleep in the grave and together they enjoy the fulness of salvation.

Hooten - Our dear sister, Sarah C. (Shaw) wife of our beloved pastor, E. M. Hooten, was born in Jasper county, Ga., September 12, 1836, and died in Jackson, Ga., November 27, 1889. Death is a sad event at all times, and an unwelcome messenger especially so, where it enters the sacred precincts of home, and removes the wife and mother; and as we witness the heartrending grief of the stricken family, how prone we are to ask Why should this be? But we know this is wrong, and that He who gives and takes is too wise to err and too good to be unkind; therefore, we can only bow our heads in meek submission to our Heavenly Father's will.

To her sorrowing children, nearly all of whom are grown, we would say, Your mother left you a rich legacy, one that will never die, and though her body lies moldering in the tomb, she still lives, not only in that glory world, but here on earth her pure Christian life, her precepts, her prayers, her self-sacrificing devotion to you will ever live in your memories. We would commend the bereaved husband to that dear Saviour whom his precious wife so much loved and trusted, as Comforter, Counsellor and Friend. He has said, "I will never leave thee nor forsake thee." Our church, too, sustains a sad loss, and we mourn, but not as those without hope. We feel assured that our loss is our dear sister's eternal gain, and that we must accept this dispensation with Christian resignation. As a church, as individuals, and as a community we tender Bro. Hooten and his sorrowing children our deepest sympathy and pray that this Providential dealing may be sanctified to the good of us all.

HOOTEN.—Our dear sister, Sarah C., wife of our beloved pastor, E. M. Hooten, was born in Jasper county, Ga., September [illegible], 1836, and died in Jackson, Ga., November 2d, 1888. Death is a sad event at all times, and an unwelcome messenger—especially so, when it enters the sacred precinct of home, and removes the wife and mother; and as we witness the heart-rending grief of the stricken family, how prone we are to ask "Why should this be?" HOOTEN.—In all the sorrows and bereavements incident to human life, it is the Christians duty to kiss the hand of Providence saying: "Thy will be done," having a perfect faith in the goodness of God, which shall surely work out for his children a happiness that will last through the ages of eternity. It is the religion of Jesus alone that sweetens the cup of sorrow which yields a relief to the stricken heart, bidding its faith to look away beyond the grave into that bright heaven on the other side, where Christ is gathering together his loved ones from every land. He has sent his messenger among us for a treasure. He had need, in his kingdom, of Mrs. E. M. Hooten, wife of our beloved pastor. Miss Sarah Shaw was born in Jasper county, Ga., Sept. 12, 1836. She was united in marriage to Mr. Hooten in 1856. In the year 1857 she was converted to the religion of our blessed Redeemer. By the exercise of a perfect faith in the atonement of Christ, she secured the eternal blessings which await the faithful "in that glorious home of the soul." Soon after her conversion she became a member of the Presbyterian church, and so remained until 1867, when she united with the Baptist denomination. She was baptized by Rev. W. G. McMichael. On the 29th of November, 1889, her pure spirit answered the call of God, and was lifted to its author. In the life and character of our departed sister was found every species of excellence; every white flower of virtue which wreaths so beautifully the pure brow of perfect womanhood. She was the light of her home circle, a devoted wife and helpmate to her husband, a mother whose tenderness and watch care for her children was such as Christ used as a type for his love for us. Her grand motive in her social and domestic life was to serve God and promote his glory; to brighten the lives of all around her by letting her "light shine," the Christian's light, the rays of which are patience, truth, justice, mercy and love. Though she is gone the influences of her noble Christian life still lives to purify the memories in which they are treasured. The most convincing evidence of the reality of Christ's religion to the world is its beautiful principles lived in everyday life. This grand testimony she gave us. Now her earthly pilgrimage is ended. Christ has reached down and plucked another jewel for his crown. Calling upon us to consign the temple of that fair soul to the silent trust of the grave. O leave it there to rest in peace. God will watch over and cherish it, and will be certain to raise it in the last day.

Dear Mrs. Pirkle:

I appreciated your response to my query about wishing to correspond with descendants of my great-great grandfather, Enoch Milton Hooten. It was the only valid response I have received.

I am afraid you have more information about my great-great grandfather than I do. I seek more than I am prepared to give I guess. I have E.M. Hooten's military record, a copy of the article about him in the Baptist magazine (but no copy of the picture)and a copy of his obit as it appeared in the LaGrange, Georgia newspaper where his daughter, Emma Hooten Dixon, lived and a photo copy of a letter he wrote to my grandmother, Minnie Lee Dixon Haynes, when she was a young woman. (Copy enclosed).

I do not have the pension record of his second wife, nor do I have her obit. I am descended from his first wife who was a Shaw. My great-grandmother must have been one of the elder of his 13 (?) children. The enclosed copy of the letter he wrote shows a reference to the "little boys"--his children by his second wife I presume. No, I do not know the Jordans in Houston. I was aware that my great-grandmother had a sister named Jordan. I guess this is the connection. I will correspond with them when I find time.

I am almost ashamed to correspond with such a professional genealogist as yourself. Regretfully, I don't have any group sheets worked up on the Hootens yet. I have spent two years trying desperately to find something out about the Haynes family and have run into the proverbial brick wall. I decided to turn to one of my more illustrious lines. I knew the Hootens had all been doctors and preachers and other such professionals and that there would be someone with records to share. Thank you for sharing your record.

I will talk with my parents in Georgia and see if they can piece together enough information for a group sheet. My father, H. D. Haynes of Harris County, Georgia, grew up in the home of his grandmother, Mary Emma Hooten Dixon. He knew the Hootens well. My mother married into the family in 1932 and knew my great-grandmother for some 18 years. I remember her as an old lady. I loved to hear her tell about seeing the yankees come by her father's house while he was home on leave. It is the most direct link I had with our Confederate past.

Sincerely,

D. Grant Haynes

P.S. If there is any way you could xerox picture of E.M. Hooten I would be happy to pay. I haven't seen one.

Abstract of a letter written my Enoch Milton Hooten to his granddaughter, Minnie Lee Dixon Haynes, 28 Jan. 1907.

A copy of the letter to Joanne Pirkle from D. Grant Haynes, 50 South Ridge Dr., # 37, Canyon, Tex. 79015 - 31 August, 1983. Minnie Lee was his grandmother.

Mrs. M.L. Haynes,

My Dear Grandaughter

You must pardon me for the long delay in answering your letter. I have had so much to do that I just put it off. I want to congratulate you on your marriage and selection of your husband. I have heard him highly spoken of as a very nice and worthy young man and I wish for both of you a happy and prosperous life. I would be so glad to see both of you and hope that you will come to see me. Tell your mother that I have answered every letter that I have received from her. I have often wondered why she did not write to me oftener. There is not a day that I do not think of her and her family. Tallapoosa is a beautiful town of 3500 people. One of the best schools in the state. We have a nice home in town and a good farm 1½ miles out from our residence. I am going to have a crop this year for myself and the little boys. I want to learn them to farm. I think farming he happiest life one can live, and I have never known a time when the indications were more encouragin to the farmer than now.

I hope to hear from you soon with love to you and your husband

LEWIS.—H. C. and Cary Lewis These two faithful disciples of Jesus were born the same year, 1812, and died nearly the same date, she on May 3d, and he on June 12th, 1889. They were married in the year 1830, and soon after were both baptized into the fellowship of Sharon church, Henry county, Ga., by Benjamin Wilson. Sister Lewis was born in S. C. and when quite a child removed to Henry county, Ga., with her parents James and Susannah Hooten. Bro. Lewis was born in Jasper county, Ga., but was raised in Henry county, both raised in the same neighborhood and spent their lives together. Bro. Lewis was made a deacon of Sharon church, when a young man, and about 1850 he was licensed to preach, and was a zealous Christian from the time of the conversion until the end of his life. In 1851 or '52 they removed from their first home and settled 4 miles east of McDonough, Ga., and were instrumental in securing the constitution and building up of the now flourishing church, Bethany. They gave the land on which the house of worship was erected. Their liberality and piety contribute much to its prosperity. These two aged Christians were known to the writer for about 50 years—and they lived and passed away having the confidence of all who knew them. Their house was open to all, and many a tired preacher of different denominations found rest and comfort under their hospitable roof. Theirs was called the preacher's home. For 3 years Bro. Lewis was entirely helpless, but it is said that not a murmur escaped his lips. Sister Lewis was sick a very few days. It was a scene never to be forgotten by those who witnessed the death of Sister Lewis—the affection of this aged man for his wife, he wanted to go with her, and had to wait but a few days. Together in life's long journey, together in Christian belief and work, almost together in the struggle of death, side by side their bodies sleep in the grave and together they enjoy the fulness of salvation.

The Christian Index, Thursday, Jan. 16, 1890 - p. 15

Hooten.—Our dear sister, Sarah C. wife of our beloved pastor, E. M. Hooten, was born in Jasper county, Ga., September 12, 1836, and died in Jackson, Ga., November 29, 1889. Death is a sad event at all times and an unwelcome messenger—especially so where it enters the sacred precincts of home, and removes the wife and mother; and as we witness the heart-rending grief of the stricken family, how prone we are to ask Why should this be? But we know that is wrong, and that He who gives and takes is too wise to err and too good to be unkind; therefore, we can only bow our heads in meek submission to our Heavenly Father's will.

b. 9-12-1836 Jasper Co. Ga.

d. 11-29-1889 Jackson Co. Ga.

To her sorrowing children, nearly all of whom are grown, we would say, Your mother left you a rich legacy, one that will never die, and though her body lies moldering in the tomb, she still lives, not only in that glory world, but here on earth her pure Christian life, her precepts, her prayers, her self-sacrificing devotion to you will ever live in your memories. We would commend the bereaved husband to that dear Savior whom his precious wife so much loved and trusted, as Comforter, Counsellor and Friend. He has said, "I will never leave thee nor forsake thee." Our church, too, sustains a sad loss, and we mourn, but not as those without hope. We feel assured that our loss is our dear sister's eternal gain, and that we must accept this dispensation with Christian resignation. As a church, as individuals, and as a community, we tender Bro. Hooten and his sorrowing children our deepest sympathy and pray that this Providential dealing may be sanctified to the good of us all.

was present. Then why should he longer tarry in this sin-cursed world? God knows best and righteously took him to his everlasting reward. We recollect the many pleasant moments spent with him and his family, and our discussions of the truth, that we might know the truth; also his great patience in suffering, and his hearty sanction when his watching mother said, "Son, God's grace is sufficient," and ere tears of sorrow freely flow, we look beyond all earthly scenes to the joys and triumphs of eternity, to the ever-flowing river of life, to the shining pavements, the golden harp, and the never-fading crowns reserved in heaven for the children of God. Our hearts are comforted, and we press on to that heavenly home. May God richly bless his family, and prepare them for a happy reunion where sorrow and parting are unknown.

Farewell, dear brother, till we meet in our Father's house. There we hope to join you again in praise and song services to our God and Father, that shall have no end, and there we will enjoy forever the Christian's union, fellowship and love. H. L. C.

DOMINICK.—Sister Minnie E. Dominick, daughter of Bro. E. M. Hooten and wife of Bro. G. D. Dominick, after a severe illness of three months, died at her home in Zebulon, Ga., June 6th, 1896, aged 30 years. In 1881 she professed Christianity and united with the Baptist church at Hebron, Pike county. In her youth at home and at school she was obedient, kind and affectionate. She was a pious, consistent Christian, a devoted companion and faithful, loving mother. Her sweet, noble qualities endeared her not only to her household, but to all her neighbors and acquaintances. It was her desire to live and bear her part in training up her children, and to do good, but she was perfectly resigned to the will of her Savior, in whom she ever trusted.

To her husband and two little girls, her relatives and her large host of friends, her death is a sad bereavement, but we must yield to the will of our Heavenly Father, assured that our loss is her everlasting gain.

A FRIEND.

PARK.—J. T. Park was born in Columbus, Ga., March 5, 1838, and died in Cave Spring, December 27, 1896. He was a consistent member of the Baptist Church at all times in his place

HOOTEN.—In all the sorrows and bereavements incident to human life, it is the Christians duty to kiss the hand of Providence saying: "Thy will be done," having a perfect faith in the goodness of God, which shall surely work out for his children a happiness that will last through the ages of eternity. It is the religion of Jesus alone that sweetens the cup of sorrow which yields a relief to the stricken heart, bidding its faith to look away beyond the grave into that bright heaven on the other side, where Christ is gathering together his loved ones from every land. He has sent his messenger among us for a treasure. He had need, in his kingdom, of Mrs. E. M. Hooten, wife of our beloved pastor. Miss Sarah Shaw was born in Jasper county, Ga., Sept. 12, 1836. She was united in marriage to Mr. Hooten in 1856. In the year 1857 she was converted to the religion of our blessed Redeemer. By the exercise of a perfect faith in the atonement of Christ, she secured the eternal blessings which await the faithful "in that glorious home of the soul." Soon after her conversion she became a member of the Presbyterian church, and so remained until 1867, when she united with the Baptist denomination. She was baptized by Rev. W. G. McMichael. On the 29th of November, 1889, her pure spirit answered the call of God, and was lifted to its author. In the life and character of our departed sister was found every species of excellence; every white flower of virtue which wreaths so beautifully the pure brow of perfect womanhood. She was the light of her home circle, a devoted wife and helpmate to her husband, a mother whose tenderness and watch care for her children was such as Christ used as a type for his love for us. Her grand motive in her social and domestic life was to serve God and promote his glory; to brighten the lives of all around her by letting her "light shine," the Christian's light, the rays of which are patience, truth, justice, mercy and love. Though she is gone the influences of her noble Christian life still lives to purify the memories in which they are treasured. The most convincing evidence of the reality of Christ's religion to the world is its beautiful principles lived in everyday life. This grand testimony she gave us. Now her earthly pilgrimage is ended. Christ has reached down and plucked another jewel for His crown. Calling upon us to consign the temple of that fair soul to the silent trust of the grave. O leave it there to rest in peace. God will watch over and cherish it, and will be certain to raise it in the last day

Mr. Will Burford Dead.

Mr. Will Burford a young man about 28 years old living a few miles north of Jackson died of typhoid fever this morning. He leaves a wife and one child. We extend our sympathies.

BAPTIST CHURCH DEDICATION.

We are authorized by Rev. E. M. Hooten, pastor, to announce that the new Baptist church will be dedicated on 4th Sunday inst., which is December 22nd. Dr. Nunnally, President of Mercer University, will preach the dedication sermon. Cordial invitation is extended to all.

A Big Reduction.

At a recent meeting of the city council the rate of advolorum tax was fixed at 1-8 of one per cent or 12½ centson the hundred dollars. This is by far the lowest taxes the people of Jackson have ever had to pay, and speaks well for the superior management of our efficient council. Nothing less than forty five cents on the hundred has ever before been levied.

AND STILL IT COMES.

The Argus predicted in the early fall that we would receive ten thousand bales of the fleecy staple during the present cotton season. Today we report receipts of nearly nine thousand, besides quite a number of bales that have been shipped directly from the depot. This is a fine showing with several months yet to draw from. It is now apparent that twelve thousand or more bales will be weighed here before the season closes.

A BOY IN LIMBO.

Will Pettigrew, a colored boy about 17 years of age is sleeping in the county jail. One day last week he forged an order on Dr. R. G. Bryans for four dollars and presented it to Dr. Barnes at Dr. Bryans' drugstore for payment. Dr. Barnes at once detected that it was a forgery and Pettigrew was arrested. He was carried before Judge Baily of the county court and sentenced to the chaingang for ten months.

AN INTERESTING ENTERTAINMENT.

A SAD DEATH.

Mrs. E. M. Hooten, Wife of the Pastor, of the Baptist Church at This Place, Sweetly Passes Through the Dark Valley of the Shadow of Death.

Never has it been our duty as a journalist to chronicle a more peculiarly sad death than that of Mrs. E. M. Hooten, which occurred on Friday at 11 o'clock a. m. of a complication of diseases, principle among which was pneumonia. Her remains were interred in the city cemetery at 12 o'clock Sunday after a funeral service at the Baptist church, conducted by Rev. J. T. Kimbell. The minister dwelt very feelingly and pathetically upon the many queenly virtues of the departed one as a wife, mother and friend, and everyone listened to his talk with the greatest interest, and often the whole congregation would be moved to tears. At the close of the services the casket was opened and everyone in the church came forward to look upon the face for the last time. The family came last and the scene, when six grown sons, besides the husband several daughters stood over the coffin weeping as if their hearts were indeed broken, went home to every heart. The pitiful cry of little Willie and Susie, twins, for "Mama! Mama!" was enough to move a heart of stone. The sorrow of the whole family was pitiable and the sons could hardly bear to move from looking upon the face of their mother forthe last time.

Rev. Mr. Kimbell announced that the services would be concluded at the grave and then the body was conveyed to the hearse and then to the cemetery. The procession was one of the longest ever seen in Jackson, as every one who could do so, attended the burial. At the grave the closing prayer was offered and the coffin with its precious contents was covered and with sad hearts for all, and sadder ones for a large, now motherless family, turned away. As a wife, mother, neighbor and friend, Mrs. Hooten had few equals and no superiors, and she will be sadly missed. We extend our deepest sympathies to the sorrowing ones in this their hour of sore affliction.

In this connection Mr. Hooten requests us to return his sincere

JENKINSBURG'S PROGRESS.

Our neighboring town, Jenkinsburg, will soon be working under a city government. At the recent session of the Georgia legislature the town was incorporated under a charter similar to that of Jackson, and under it a Mayor and board of Alderman have been elected, consisting of V. D. Harris Mayor, with W. H. Jenkins, S. B. Kinard, J. M. Bankston, J. M. Laster and N. J. Aarmon Aldermen, and J. T. Gray Marshal, and W. T. Crumbly deputy. A code of laws will shortly be published and everything working smoothly. Thus our county progresses.

A GRAND RECEPTION

At the Residence of Rev. E. M. Hooten.

One of the grandest and most pleasant social events of the season was the reception at the residence of Rev. E. M. Hooten, on last Wednesday evening, 15th inst., given as an expression of the high esteem and love of his church and in honor of his marriage with Miss Myra McDaniel, which took place at the residence of the late Judge McDaniel, of Hampton, Ga., at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning.

The ceremony was performed by the Hon. Jno. D. Steward in his most impressive and elegant style.

Miss McDaniel was one of Hampton's most charming and accomplished ladies. She is a lady possessed of high intellectual attainments linked with that amiability of temperament, refinement and grace of manner, which is the result of perfect training and lineage. Her family connections are among the most distingaished of Georgia, and it was with much regret that the high circles of society which she so gracefully adorned in Hampton surrendered her to that of Jackson.

After a sumptuous wedding breakfast the married pair left for Jackson and arrived here late in the afternoon.

Mr. Hooten's large and handsome residence was ablaze with light from garret to cellar. The luxurious beauties of the parlor and dining hall were enhanced by the most artistic floral decorations. His relatives and a large number of his friends were present to assist in the reception and join in the ovation of the church to its beloved pastor.

After the necessary introductions and all were made comfortably acquainted, one of those pleasant social chats, in which every one has a word, and many congratulations smilingly received by Mr. Hooten, the company or party, was conducted to the dining hall, where awaiting them, in lovely style, was the daintiest repast that ever tempted the appetite of man.

The table with its wealth of fruit, flowers and delicate viands was a perfect poem in the shape of a supper table. It would have delighted the eyes and taste of an artist. It fact it was only appreciated by those present.

Table talk was quite brilliant and pleasant indeed, and would make a pretty addition to that poem of Cowper's so named. After supper the

It is fortunate for them that Lord Rayleigh has accomplished this at a time when ocean storms, and especially tropical hurricanes, are likely to tax the seaman's art to the utmost in saving his craft from destruction.—London Nautical Magazine.

Cincinnati School House Expenses.

The teachers' salaries alone for the school year ending Aug. 31, 1889, were $613,697. Janitors, of which there are sixty, cost the city about $30,000, or $500 each. The amount spent in repairs for the different school houses was $21,946. The cost of new buildings was $219,274, the Warner street house alone costing $71,238 without the lot. The lot cost $15,300. New furniture to the amount of $8,625 was bought, but this does not include the Warner street supplies.

For fuel $22,653 went a-glimmering. It required about 5,000 tons of coal and several thousand dollars worth of kindling. Two thousand six hundred and seventy-three dollars was paid out for rent to accommodate some of the "colonies." Heating fixtures were put in costing the city $10,291. The schools are all provided with gas, and often in dark days it is necessary to burn it the whole of the school hours. The gas cost $493.50 that year. Four lots were bought for the sum of $32,675, including the last Warner street lot. This makes a grand total of $947,027.—Cincinnati Times-Star.

This country lies to the north of the colony of Bechuanaland, with the Boers for neighbors on the east and the chiefs Khama and Lo Bengula on the north.

Since Barthoen came to the throne he has effected a moral revolution in his country. He has encouraged agriculture, induced thousands of his people to embrace Christianity and has strictly prohibited the liquor traffic in his dominions.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

It was with reluctance, at a late hour, that they bade adieu to the household and left the scene of so much enjoyment.

TOWN AND COUNTY.

Town is full of people.

Vegetation is doing its best.

H. H. Carmichael has just returned from Dahlonega.

Miss Ella Logue has gone to Cordele to go into business.

Miss Sallie Mackey, of Isl and Shoals, is stopping at Dr. Mays'.

The farmers are pushing the idea of making hay while the sun shines.

Mr. Dulut has the finest young orchard of peach trees in Butts county.

Col. McKibben attended Mary Sharpe college commencement last week.

Frying size chickens have had their day in Jackson during the commencement.

Mr. Clayton Mathews, of Tennille, Ga., is in town, the guest of Mr. F. S. Etheridge.

The Jackson carriage factory turned out three buggies after five o'clock last Saturday.

There is plenty seat room in the college chapel to accommodate six hundred persons.

Col. Young Wright spent several days last week at Brunswich and St. Simon's Island.

Mrs. Bankston, mother of Mr. John Bankston, died near County Line on Sunday night—84 years old.

Our college will be again open on 1st Monday in September, with a full corps of first-class teachers.

If a boom for Jackson depended upon some of her citizens the town would never be larger than a hickory nut.

There are so many people visiting our town this week that it has been impossible to get their names for this paper.

While blackberries are so plentiful every family should preserve large quantities for winter use. There is no more wholesome food known.

Let all our people go to the college tomorrow. The merchants have agreed to close their doors that their clerks with others can hear Dr Lee's address.

Butts county feels justly proud of the record her representatives have made in various colleges this year. They have stood at the head at Athens, Dahlonega and Mary Sharpe.

If the rains continue for a few weeks longer the corn crops of this county will be unprecedentedly fine.

COMMENCEMENT.

The Jackson Institute Booming.

The commencement exercises of Jackson Institute was formerly opened on Sunday with a commencement sermon at the Methodist church by Rev. E. M. Hooten, Rev. J. Wm. Jones, failing to arrive, having failed to reach the train in Atlanta. The news of his not coming did not reach here till only a short while before the appointed hour for the sermon and the people felt much disappointed, but always realizing that Jackson could stand in her own shoes Mr. Hooten was called upon to fill the place of Mr. Jones, and, without any time for preparation he arose and delivered one of the grandest sermons that ever fell from the lips of a man in Jackson. As soon as he began his discourse the vast assembly at once realized that while Dr. Jones was not before them another fully equal to any emergency was at the helm. The sermon was indeed a fine effort and delivered in a masterly and eloquent manner. All were highly pleased with the discourse and many were the comments heard in its praise.

Yesterday and to-day are the examination days. The classes have all, so far, stood highly creditable tests which speak well for the superior skill of Prof. Watts and his able assistants. Last night the stage exercises were begun and the evening was given to the smaller children. All the selections were fine and they were delivered in a highly creditable manner. This evening at 8 o'clock the exhibition will be continued with declamations, charades, dialogues, opparetias &c. Tomorrow will be commencement day proper. In the forenoon some of the higher students will deliver recitations and declamations and at 10 o'clock, Rev. J. W. Lee D. D., will deliver the literary address in the chapel. The outline exercises will close with a public dinner on the grounds.

Prof. Featherston of McDonough was in town on yesterday.

The Misses Atkinson are at home during the vacation of Mary Sharpe. We learn that they will finish their entire course next term.

Mr. Henry Carmichael, who is at home from the North Georgia Agricultural college, will begin a three months school at Mt. Vernon next Monday. He will deliver a lecture at said church on Saturday afternoon on the subject of education.

CLEVELAND AND VICTORY!

The Democratic Standard Unfurled to the Breeze!

And the Contest of 1888 Opened With the Constitution Battling in the Front Ranks.

The triumphs of The Constitution in reporting the campaign of 1884 are well remembered! It was the first Southern paper to announce Cleveland's election and majority, and Atlanta had celebrated that event before other Southern cities knew of it! The Constitution led all Southern papers in 1884.

Our arrangements for reporting the campaign of 1888 are fuller than ever before. We have established correspondents in Boston, New York, Cincinnati, Chicago, St. Louis and San Francisco—and members of the Constitution staff will make frequent trips through the doubtful states.

Through special and exclusive arrangements with the Boston Herald, New York World, Chicago News and St. Louis Globe-Democrat, the progress of the campaign will be detailed in The Constitution as in no other Southern newspaper. Special letters will be printed weekly from the six leading correspondents of the country.

THE W. C. T. U.

At Indian Springs in a Body.

Wednesday was the grandest day ever held at Indian Spring since the treaty with McIntosh in 1825.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union that was in national session in Atlanta made an excursion to the historic place with a view of locating an inebriate asylum there. Among the great throng of nine hundred ladies there were representatives from almost every state and territory. They were all highly pleased with the visit, and steps were taken to start the ball in motion that will result in an extensive building especially for inebriates. Four hundred yards of table was arranged in the Elder grove, which was loaded down with the rich viands that had been prepared by the good ladies of Indian Spring, Flovilla and surrounding country.

They were one and all highly pleased with their trip, and we trust that much good will be the outcome.

BRILLIANT WEDDING.

One of Jackson's Young Men Married to a Pike County Girl.

On the 19th of November, at three o'clock p. m., the doors of the Baptist church at Hollonville were thrown open and filled with many guests to witness the happy marriage of Mr. E. L. Hooten, of Jackson, to Miss Belle Perkins, of Hollonville, Rev. E. M Hooten elegantly performing the ceremony.

The reception given at the home of the bride, was largely attended and proved to be a perfect success. Mr. Enoch, one of Jackson's most popular young men, and his amiable and refined bride received many good wishes from their host of friends.

The attendants were Messrs. Brown and Leach, of Griffin; Messrs. Carnes and Crawley, of Jackson. Messrs. T. C. Sullivan and R. H. Yarbrough acting as ushers. Little DeWitt Harrison and Ethel Owen, passing through, held the gates until the bridal party entered. Mrs. Trice, of Concord, played the wedding march.

The presents were handsome and too numerous to mention.

Dear Mrs. Pirkle,

I was glad to get your letter. Thurmond had written me you were working on Hooten family and gave me your address, but just hadn't gotten around to writing. I really haven't done much work on the Hootens--the information almost fell into my lap on that family. Such incredible luck--the kind I have had very little of. And I will say that I've had almost as many responses to my queries of an inquiry nature about the Hooten family as those of an answering to my original question. There are lots of Hooten descendants around, anxious to learn more.

I had really read only a very few Hooten census records, when I mentioned to the librarian what family I was working on, and she asked if I had seen their new book on the Hooten family. It was "They Crossed The Savannah - The Hooten Family" by Eugene Martin of Augusta. We only knew as far back as Ray's grandfather's name and the name of his wife. Well, I spent about 3 hours that morning reading that book, and it came right down to listing his grandfather and knew his wife's surname, but not her given name. I just cried--that was unbelievable. I wrote Mr. Martin and got one of the few unsold copies of his book--paid $40 for it, but believe me, I am so proud of it. Anyway, that is why I'm not ever asking questions regarding Hootens--that little book took me back as far as I hoped to go on the family.

Since then, I have been contacted by a Hooten family in Virginia (of the same line) who think they have gone even further than the book on the Hootens, finding records of the first we know of, William, in Virginia some years before that covered in the book.

Before I go any further, let me tell you that Eleanor B. Spurlin, 3228 Forest Lawn Drive, Matthews, N.C. 28105 wants information on Amassa Hooten who m. Nancy Spurlin 1820 in Jasper Co, Ga. She was publishing a Spurlin family history. Mrs. Harold Eugene Daughdril, 1582 Bellglade Drive, Baton Rouge, La. 70815 is working on her gr gr grandfather, John S. Hooten, b. Ga about 1824, married Mary Ann Johnson, dau of Samuel Johnson, in Meriwether Co in 1848. She says only other Hootens who lived near the Johnsons was Littleton Hooten in Talbot Co. Then Ouida Williamson, PO Box 152, Graham, Texas 76046 was wanting any inf. on James Hooten Sr who m. Susanna Kidd. And Mrs. R.L. Gross, 213 N. Circle Drive, LaFayette, Ga. 30728 wanted information on Lourany Hooten, who was 2nd wife of Howell Hight, Jr. The Hights came to Warren Co, Ga from Va before 1800. She says Lourany had bros named Hilton and Wheeler Hooten. And Lourany's mother was Lourany Wheeler.

One of the more interesting queries on Hooten family came from Wendy Ann Jonew de Geofrey, RFD North Road, Chilmark, Ma. 02535. One of her ancestors is or was Elizabeth Smedley Hooton who was one of the first Quaker women preachers (1600-1672). I can't go back far enough on the Hootens to connect with her family, but her information was really of interest. The Hootens in Virginia who have worked on our Hooten line are Mr. & Mrs. James B. Hooten III, 5934 Bush Hill Dr., Alexandria, Va. 22310. I've tried to save all my Hooten family inquirers, but may have lost a couple of letters of others interested.

I've tried to work on so many families at the same time that it gets really confusing. You may have already seen this writeup on Rev. Enoch Milton Hooten, but I'll enclose it anyway. Mr. Cooper sent it to me--and his address is on one of the sheets.

Raymond is the son of Fletcher Jabes Hooten, born 29 Jul 1887 Hartford, Ala, d. 1973 and his wife Martha Ausley. Fletcher Jabes was the son of Frances Barto Hooten, b. 1861 Barbour Co, Ala, d. 1928 Webster, Fla, m. Fannie Askew. Frances Barto Hooten was son of James Arrington Hooten, b. 10 Feb 1815 near Gray, Ga., d. 1904 and buried just outside Dothan, Ala, and his wife was Martha A. Ross. James A. Hooten was son of Arrington Hooten, b. ca 1785 Bertie or Martin Co, N.C., d. Mar 1817 in Ga, and his wife's first name was Lucy _____. Arrington Hooten was son of the Rev. Henry Hooten, b. 2 Sep 1765 Bertie Co, N.C., m. 1784, and died 15 Jan 1852 in Pike Co, Ala. And Henry Hooten was son of William Hooten Sr. b. prior to 1727 and died about 1794 Martin Co, N.C.

Mr. Martin's book in no way connects the James and Suzanne Kidd Hooten family with our line, but if you are interested, I'd be glad to sort of summarize the earlier marriages and children and what he learned about them. You never know in what way you may see a connection. Hope this will be of some help to you. I would have enclosed summary of our early Hootens, but my 2nd grandchild is due any day and am rather busy just now. Thank you for writing.

I descend from James Hooten and Susannah Kidd. They had a daughter named Martha Adair Hooten who married James Madison Moore in Henry, Co., GA. I have a letter witten by Enoch Hooten to my great grandfather Coleman Allen Moore, the son of James Madison Moore and Martha A. Hooten, where he address the letter as dear nephew. I would like to receive all data on the Hooten family and their spouses. We are currently in the process of refurbishing the the Hooten Family cemetery just outside Ola, GA which is on private property. Hooten/Rock is the name of the cemetery and the owner of the property is working with the Hooten family ancestors in this project..for more information contact me. this is burial site of James Hooten and Susannah Kidd and family.

Clark, Dailey, Foster, Harpers, Higginbotham, Keys, Maddox, Thrasher, Turpen and others who came first to Wilkes County, Georgia.

The Carr, Duffey, Laney and McKibben families came from Mecklenburg County, North Carolina and settled on Tussahaw Creek. Others from Mecklenburg County were the Stillwell family and Dr. L. M. Tye who settled in McDonough.

A related family group came from Greene and Morgan Counties, Georgia. They were composed of the Jones, Adair, Bryan, Hughey and Weaver families, and were found in Laurens and Union Counties, South Carolina. Members of these families intermarried into the Butler, Copeland, Thrasher and Weaver families in Morgan County. This family group came to Henry County and settled on South River near Butler's Ferry.

A family group, from Chester and Lancaster Counties, South Carolina, settled near Mt. Bethel Church. This group included Nancy Crockett, her sons, John and James W. and other children, Nancy's sister Margaret Walcup and husband William Brown and their family, Yerby and William Stroud, and James Hooten who settled in this location were also from South Carolina.

From Newberry County, South Carolina, came James and Thomas Russell and their families, Johnson Fargason, Lewis Hogg's family, the Lindsays and others.

The Elliott family group who came from Wilkes, Oglethorpe and Morgan Counties into Henry County were accompanied by the Clouds, Greens, Hintons, Kelleys, Morrows, Owens and Thompsons. The Hartsfields were also in Oglethorpe with Elliotts and settled in this county together. The Callaways and Selfridges, were from Wilkes.

Later many of these people found on early records of Wilkes county were found together in Jasper County Georgia, 1821-22 Benjamin Moseley, Silas Moseley, Wade H. Turner, Rhoderick Harper, James and Daniel Zachry. This group came to Henry.

In Hancock, Jones and Monroe Counties were found: David Clements in Hancock, Abner Davis, John Lowe, John Ward, John Dorsey, William Griffin and the McClendons, in Jones County and in Monroe County Turner Hunt, who had several children who came to Henry County. His in-laws were David Clements, Jr, Dr. F. E. Manson, and William Crayton.

Another immigrant family group into Henry County from Oglethorpe County consisted of the Johnson, Griffin, Barnett, Andrews, Barfield, and Fears and settled in the Third Districts around old Bear Creek and Pleasant Grove, which was near the present towns of Griffin and Hampton.

Historical Background

The early settlers of Henry County, Georgia had a historical American background. Their forefathers had come to the colonies and played their part in the making of history. Historical and genealogical research reveal facts on certified records which show that the forefathers of the early settlers of Henry County were on records of service among the most famous Americans.

Received a grant of land from William Penn in Pennsylvania and 1682: William Cloud, an ancestor of Ezekiel Cloud, and one of the first settlers in Henry County. Capt. Joseph Dillard, the grandfather of William Maddox, a first settler, was found on a record kept by George Washington during the French and Indian Wars while gaining recognition as an American hero at Winchester Virginia before the Revolutionary War. Joseph was an artificer in making firearms.

George Elliott Sr. and sons served in the American Revolution from Cumberland County, Pennsylvania and were detailed by George Washington as iron-masters to make the huge chains which were stretched across the Delaware river to prevent the British from entering Philadelphia.

Dr. John Woodson came to Jamestown Virginia with Gov. Yeardley. A grandson, John Woodson, was present at the meeting at Saint John's Church in Richmond, when Patrick Henry made his famous speech. People on this Woodson lineage came to Henry County, and Patrick Henry has a descendant in McDonough.

David Barton went into Kentucky with Daniel Boone and was killed by the Indians. His widow and children came to Morgan County, Georgia and members of this family became Henry Countians.

Andrew Pickens and Robert Sevier of South Carolina fame have descendants in this locality.

Most established lineages would show similar historical connections. People with this heritage and background settled Henry County, Georgia, lived and made local history.

New Georgia Counties were formed and the territory west was gradually opened. Many from this section moved on and in turn Henry County became their historical background and an eternal link in the History of Georgia. The local history is important.

Genealogical inquiries have been received personally from California, Colorado, Illinois, Oklahoma and Texas, seeking information on some of these old settlers.

Entrance of Early Settlers into Henry County

"The path of Oakfuskee, Upper Trading Route in Georgia to the Creek Indians," by John H. Goff in The Georgia Historical Quarterly, March, 1955 gives a detailed account of the Indian trails that led to the Ocmulgee River. From this reference, the following account gives the history of the entrance of the first settlers into the county.

The vicinity of Augusta, Georgia, at a concentrating center in the southern skin trade, became the focal point for a number of arterial trading paths that fanned out to remote and diverse points in the Indian Country. Great Oakfuskee Indian Town was located west of Dadeville, Alabama. One of these thoroughfares was called the "Upper Trading Path" and the other located farther south is called the "Lower Creek Trading Path." These Indian trails traveled with loads of skins or goods, next became a road for packhorse trains and finally pioneer's road.

We shall consider the route from Augusta to Rock landing. Briefly this road from Greensboro continued westward to a ford on the Ocmulgee River, and after crossing the trail forked making two ways to go over the Apalachee in Morgan County. The right turn was a path to the Cherokees. The left, running through present Godfrey, Shady Dale and Machen, went the Seven Islands Trail. This route led to the mouth of Wise Creek at the Seven Islands on the Ocmulgee River. Here the Oakfuskee Path and the Seven Islands Trail from the Apalachee River reached a common ford on the Ocmulgee. Seven Islands begin a short distance below the confluence of the two main upper branches of the Ocmulgee River and are below the Jackson Lake dam and bridge on the Jackson-Monticello road.

Here at this common ford on the Ocmulgee River at the convergence of these two Indian trails—one trail continued on to Indian Springs. Its probable route was along Planters Factory (Lamar's Mill) to a point below Flovilla where it joined the McIntosh Trail which extended across the southern part of original Henry County. Some of the early settlers came by this route.

About six miles above Seven Islands, Keys Ferry was operated on the Ocmulgee River. Available records show that many of the first settlers entered here. The main thoroughfare through the center of the county to its capitol, McDonough, bears the name of Keys Ferry.

MODE OF CONVEYANCE

Andrew M. Brown had been one of the first to enter the county. He would locate grants of land for others and blaze the way, preparatory to their coming and then go by wagon train and move families to their new home. He moved William Green.

William Crawford, a native Virginian came to Georgia in ox-carts in 1810. (Ref; Memories of Georgia-Carroll County Sketches Vol. I on Henry F. Crawford.)

James Hooten and his wife Susan Kidd came in ox-carts from South Carolina. (Ref: D.A.R. Coll. on Newton Co., at Dept. of Archives.)

William Gleaton came alone, on horseback, from Orangeburg Co., S. C. On the way, he came upon a wagon which had stalled at a stream. He stopped to offer his assistance, to the occupants the family of William Maddox. In the wagon, he spied a pretty young girl and then resolved to marry her, Both parties came on to Henry County, settled on adjoining farms and before the year was out, he married the girl.

John P. and Nancy James, came from Rockingham Co., N. C. to Georgia, in a wagon and settled in Henry County. (Ref: Sketch of Wiley James born 1834 in Henry County Co. went to Tallapoosa Ga.)

Adam Sloan, a young man, came alone on horseback from South Carolina.

John Stillwell, as a young man, came from Mecklenburg Co., N. C., bringing with him a lad Lewis Mcamy Tye.

Stage Service

Old Stagecoach Road at Ellenwood, in Clayton County was commemorated by the erection of a historical marker, April 15, 1954.

The road, one of the oldest in the state, was first an Indian trail, which connected Hightower Trail to the Etowah Mounds and Cherokee County with trails to Coweta Falls (Columbus) the Chief McIntosh Homes on the Chattahoochee River and the Creek Indian Villages in Middle Georgia.

In stage coach days it was used from Decatur through Panthersville, Morrow, Jonesboro, and Fayetteville to Columbus.

The southern branch of Stagecoach road led on down by old Concord Church graveyard, at Old Stockbridge on to McDonough. James Sprayberry, given on census records as a Stagedriver was in 888 Ga. M. District.

The great stage coach line leading from New York to New Orleans is said to have had a relay station in McDonough.

Another Indian Trail which was used by stage coaches on arun from Charleston, South Carolina to New Orleans made Madison an overnight stop for travelers on their journey to the West. In 1837, there were stages from Augusta to Monroe to Covington, which was probably on the same main stage line. Augusta was a market place nearer than Savannah and records show served many Henry County citizens.

There were stages from Milledgeville to Macon and from Macon to Indian Springs.

Jan. 27, 1843—The Bay poneys of Fleming and Ley were sold for $175.00, by Sheriff, to clear mortage to Richard C. Putney.

Court ordered to pay from proceeds David Knott, John M. Cox, and Moses Trimble their accounts for feeding the stage horses of the defiance. (Henry County Court record)

Conflict with Seminole Indians

In 1836, a serious conflict with Seminole Indians of Florida occurred and the Federal Government called on the State of Georgia to furnish men to punish the Florida Indians for the massacre of a company of United States soldiers commanded by Captain Dade of the United States army near Withloocha.

Gov. Schley called for volunteers to meet the requisition of the United States Government. In 1836 horrible murders were committed by Western Creeks on the Chattahoochee River who had decided to join the Florida Indians. Companies of soldiers were organized all over Georgia to meet this emergency and Gov. Schley led them in person.

South River at Peachstone Shoals. This work was completed in 1958.

SNAPPING SHOALS

The first record of Snapping Shoals is found in Laws of Georgia 1821, page 49, State Library.

An Act passed by the General Assembley of Georgia—An Act to prevent obstructions to the passage of fish in the Ockmulgee River and its branches.

After this act it shall be unlawful for any person to place any obstructions to the passage of fish in the Ockmulgee River and its principal branches from its mouth to the following places to-wit: the high shoals of the Alcofauhatchie, the snapping shoal of South River, and the cedar shoal on the Yellow River, and in all cases where mills, fish dams or other obstructions to the passage of fish, shall be erected, there shall be an open sluice of at least twenty feet in width in the main channel of the stream, over which fish may pass without difficulty.

2. person so offending shall be liable to an indictment for a common nuisance, before any court having cognizance of such cases, and be subject to pay a fine of ten dollars per day for every day such nuisances shall remain unremoved. Assented to 25th. December, 1821.

Road laid off to the Snapping Shoals — Sept. 20, 1823

(Reference: Adiel Sherwood in 1837—in the Gazetteer of Georgia gives this account of Snapping Shoals)

Where the road from McDonough to Covington crosses S. Ocmulgee, there is in that river so large and short a bend as to form a peninsula. When you ascend the bank half a mile, the river on both sides is but a few yards distant, but some hundred feet beneath you. Below this some miles is a beautiful rapid, called Snapping Shoals. The clear water passes down the rocks very rapidly.

This rapid current of the stream is the origin of the name Snapping Shoals.

Snapping Shoals is located on land lot no. 209 of the 10th District of original Henry County and lot no. 209 of the 11th District of the original Henry. The 10th District became a part of Newton County.

Many of the first settlers around Snapping Shoals were Presbyterians and attended Hopewell Associated Reformed Presbyterian Church just across the river in Newton County. A History of this church has been compiled from authentic records—by Sarah Lee Vinson Timmons. Abstracts from her records: "Two or three families from Hopewell and Union Congregations, of Chester District, South Carolina emigrated to Newton County, Georgia in the year 1825 and formed the nucleus of the now flourishing Church of Hopewell." The deed—of land was in 8 dist. of originally Henry Lot number 26.

The families from Hopewell were those of George McDill, David Chestnut, Samuel McCaw and Neal McDonald; from Union were Alexander Cowan, Thomas Bill, Janes Stewart, Robert Boyd. From Jackson's Creek, William Thompson. Others came from Iredell, N. C.

This group of religious people first had services in Homes. In 1826, Henry Bryson D.D. preached the first sermon under a large tree. The first building was erected in 1830.

Fairview Church in Henry County was a child of Hopewell. (See Church History)

The two A. R. P. Churches had a manse at Snapping Shoals. Rev. Robert Lee Belle raised in the old College Town of Due West, S. C. was one of the ministers; another Thomas McDill, the father of Rev. Thomas H. McDill of Columbia Seminary and Rev. Martin. Much history is inscribed on the tombs in this church graveyard.

For many years, the schoolhouse stood by the Church, until it became consolidated with the Livingston School. About 1873, Miss Nannie J. Allen came from Due West to teach. She married James A. McDonald of Henry County and they were the parents of Miss Lucy McDonald, a retired Henry County teacher. Miss Thompson, Misses Leila and Eva Gardner, John and Robert Aiken taught here. On the Henry County side, near the McDonald-Adair place, was Rockspring School.

These settlers with religious and with educational backgrounds left worthwhile impressions which characterized this community and many went from here to serve in greater fields.

Doctors who practiced at Snapping Shoals were: Dr. Huson, Dr. Joe Bosworth, whose daughter Eva, married Dr. James E. Wood, of Woodstown and Jackson, Dr. John Garlington and Dr. Jim Webb.

Among the early settlers on the Henry County side of the river were: Azarial Brewer who sold land in 1843 to Isaac J. Hartsfield—land that joined Harrison M. Moore, the son of Joshua Moore who came from Delaware to Greene Co., Ga. and on to Henry County; Jane Stroud and her son William Stroud, Charles Kitchens, Levi Mercer, George W. Adair, Lemuel Forbes, John Curry McDonald, the son of Neal who came from Ireland, Samuel P. Hooten, Ras W. Dickerson and others.

The Henry County Centennial History states that the first grist mill in the county was built here by Jethro Barnes and Snapping Shoals soon became a business center.

About 1850, Lemuel Forbus, William Wood, and T. G. Garlington erected a large two and one-half story brick building with two feet thick walls which was completed in 1853. This building was in use until about 1938 when it burned. At this time, it was the property of a Mr. Ellington. (This paragraph is traditional.)

Mark Fowler was an early miller here and built the John Lummus house which remains on the hill above the store.

Martin Byard Fowler born March 5, 1824, [illegible]esboro, N. Y., died June 9, 1897 at Covington, Ga., married Sarah Webb of Newton County.

He enlisted in Confederate ranks in the War Between the States, but was returned to operate his grist mill to help feed soldiers; and moved his family to Snapping Shoals in May, 1862. On that date, records show that M. B. Fowler bought ⅓ interest in Snapping Shoals property; corn and flour mills, land, houses etc. On November 30, 1881, he and his partner, J. C. Aiken sold the Grist Mill to Josiah M. Bosworth. He gave the land for Snapping Shoals Methodist Church. In 1882, Mr. Fowler moved to Covington. Ref: Centennial Edition of The Covington News, October 28, 1965.

During the War, John J. Steward operated one of the largest tanneries in this section at Snapping Shoals. The location of the tanneries was later known as the picnic ground, on the left side of the road just before reaching the old bridge. It is to be remembered that all shoes were made at tanneries by shoemakers.

Ref: A Petition of John J. Steward for Detailed Service to operate his tannery during the W[illegible], dated Sept. 6, 1864—on file at Georgia [illegible]partment of Archives.

In 1881, Snapping Shoals Mills were bought by Josiah M. Bosworth of Atlanta who had bought the Island Shoals property in 1880. By March 27, 1885, Bosworth had failed in business and T. G. Healey of Atlanta had the Mills. Healey probably backed Bosworth in this business venture.

In Oct. 27, 1893, Rock Springs Academy is taught by Prof. W. T. McMillan of Jackson. Merchants are doing a thriving business; knitting factory closed down for repairs; S. P. Hootens ginnery going full force; R. W. Dickerson one of the most successful planters as well as financiers of our section. Ref: News item: Occurrences Down on Old South River.

In Feb. 28, 1896, Mr. H. A. DeLoach of Atlanta passed through McDonough to Snapping Shoals where he went to live. He has recently purchased the excellent Mill property. 1900—his home burned—his last house remains.

There was always a store at Snapping Shoals. An old two storied log building which stood until about 1948 served for a mercantile company on the lower floor and the upper floor was the Masonic Lodge hall. Mr. DeLoach operated a store here and Mrs. Rufus (Dora) Fincher had a millinery shop. Mrs. DeLoach taught music in this locality. In 1911 H. A. DeLoach's son died and was buried at the Methodist Church. Mr. DeLoach returned to Atlanta.

(Henry County Weekly Aug. 25, 1899).

DeLoach returned to Atlanta and the decline of the mill began.

Mr. Tom Marston of Snapping Shoals was in the city last Saturday, the guest of Mr. Sam Aiken. He says the De Loach roller mill is turning out as fine white flour as can be found on the markets anywhere, and that the large number of people with wagons visiting the Shoals from all sections to get grinding is simply wonderful.

Similar news items appeared often in the local paper around the turn of the century.

Rev. J. T. Gibson, the retiring pastor of the Tallapoosa church, received a purse of $25.00 from the Christmas tree. It is truly refreshing to see a church manifest such high appreciation of its pastor. It often happens however, that the church does not show its appreciation of the pastor until after it has lost him. It is like placing flowers on the caskets of our loved ones, rather than strewing them in their pathway while living.

Rev. Paul Price, of Urbana, Ohio, acting upon the advice of his physician, has cancelled all engagements for meetings in the North. In a private letter he says, "After a few week's rest on a big cotton plantation of a friend in Newton, Ga., I hope to do some evangelistic work in this State." Bro. Price has held successful meetings at a number of places in Georgia. Those interested might address him at Newton.

Dr. W. W. Landrum has passed his eleventh milepost as pastor of the First church, Atlanta. During his ministry his church has made remarkable advances. Several colonies have been sent out from its membership, which have become self-sustaining churches. An elegant new house of worship has been erected on one of the most desirable sites in the city. As a token of appreciation the church has increased his salary from $4,300 to $4,800. This is the largest salary paid by any church in the city. We extend hearty congratulations to both pastor and church.

"Drink"—"The — Celestial" — Capt. Thad. Adams.

"Bread"—"Can the Lord depend on you?"—Judge J. D. McKenzie.

"Meat"—"I Gave My Life for Thee"—Col. Z. H. Clark.

This meeting was held with a view of stimulating interest in the Laymen's Movement, and it is believed it will result in great good in the interest of this popular feature of our Baptist life.

V. Miller, Rev. T. W. Callaway, Dr. W. H. Smith, Richmond, Va., U. V. Whipple and Mr. A. I. Ruby. The aim of the pastor is to make the conference one in which service for God is emphasized, and to that end a number of practical subjects will be discussed.

Rev. Enoch Milton Hooten passed away very suddenly at his home in Tallapoosa during the last week of the old year. Brother Hooten had been in splendid health for several months, and on the morning of his death he felt unusually well and did some errands about the house, after which he went up town, and conversed cheerfully with his friends. Returning home he was stricken with severe pain and died within about thirty minutes. Brother Hooten was born in Henry county in 1836. He was first married to Miss Sarah Shaw, and unto them were born twelve children, ten of whom are living. In early life brother Hooten joined the church, and was ordained as a minister of the gospel at old Sharon church, Henry county, forty-one years ago. During these years he was pastor of churches in Henry and surrounding counties, and was very popular among his people. We extend our sympathy to his bereaved relatives and friends.

1. John James Gazaway Rodgers married Mary Harkness (1840-1933), and died during the War Between the States. They had one son:

John Pinckney Rodgers (1862-1948), who married Alice Elliott (1862-1957) the daughter of Jeremiah and Elmira Stallings Elliott. (They were not related to the large George Elliott family of Henry County.)

Mr. J. P. (Buddy) Rodgers reared his family two miles out on Keys Ferry Road, at the original Willis Goodwin place. His property is still owned and occupied by his descendants. He later moved just outside the city limits of McDonough. There were seven children.

2. Sophronia Ann Rodgers (1838-1909), married Thomas S. Craig.

3. Savannah Rodgers (1841-1919), was the wife of William F. Fargason.

4. Catherine Emily Rodgers (1843-1926), wife of George M. Chaffin, son of Tyre Chaffin.

5. Caroline Rodgers born 1847 in S. C.

6. Martha J. Rodgers born 1850 in S. C.

(One of the above Rodgers daughters would be Mrs. J. M. Holifield of Jackson, Ga.)

7. Manson B. Rodgers (1851-1899), born in Ga., married Nancy Lindsay (1848-1927). The Lindsays were from Newberry Co., S. C.

News item on the Rodgers family:

Henry County Weekly—July 13, 1894

Mr. M. B. Rodgers and sister Mrs. J. M. Holifield of Jackson will leave for South Carolina for a visit with relatives in that state.

Aug. 17, 1894—in The Weekly,

Mr. Rodgers gives an account of his trip. He states: We left home the 23rd. of July, two of my sisters and I, went by Augusta where two of our cousins met us and took us to their home 2½ miles over in Aiken County, South Carolina. We went from Augusta to Bradley about sixty miles on P. R. & W. C. Railroad where some more cousins met us and carried us some fifteen miles across the county to their homes (it being where our parents were raised). We traveled over a good portion of Aiken, Abbeville and Edgefield Counties.

Note: Bradley is in Greenwood County between McCormick in Edgefield County and Greenwood, South Carolina.

Drawing Land in Lee Co. -

Henry Hooten R.S. of Upson Co.

HOOTENVILLE, Taylor County. This former community was located on the Flint River where it is crossed by the present U. S. 80. It was originally called HOOTEN'S FERRY, and this ferry was later taken over by Louis Cantelow. The old Indian trail, Toms Path (q.v.), passed through here. This section of the county is named HOOTENVILLE (Militia) DISTRICT.

HOPEFUL, Mitchell County. Located west of Camilla. The name of this community was selected by the first settlers who desired an optimistic name to call it. There was also a community named HOPEFUL in upper Forsyth County. The first settler was believed to be Herod Thornton Sr., who moved here from North Carolina in 1819.

HOPEULIKIT, Bulloch County. The original settlers invented the whimsical name for this community in the upper section of the county. Brinkley said this name was submitted in desperation after the U. S. postal authorities rejected all previous names proposed.

HOPEWELL, Fulton County. This old community about five miles north of Alpharetta was given its name by early settlers to denote optimism. Another community called HOPEWELL is located in Cherokee County near Canton.

HOPOETHYELOHOLO CREEK, Butts County. The Muskogee Indian name for SANDY CREEK, which flows easterly into Chief MacIntosh Lake at Indian Springs State Park.

HORNET'S NEST, Elbert County. This was the name given to that section of old Wilkes County, where there lived a number of Whigs "who were both enthusiastic and vindictive in their hatred of the Tories." Nancy Hart (see Hart County) lived in this region. This section of Wilkes County was taken in 1790 to create Elbert County.

HORNSBY'S, Fulton County. This was the name given to an old post office which was in operation from 1840 to 1844. Named for postmaster Joseph Hornsby. It was located a short distance west of the present East Point.

HORRY, Taylor County. Settled about 1828 when it was the first county seat of Marion County. It was located 7½ miles northeast of Tazewell. The derivation of the name is not known.

HORSELEG MOUNTAIN, Floyd County. Located just southwest of Rome, it is 1,526 feet high. Descriptively named because of its apparent resemblance to the hock and shank of a horse. See also Shinbone Ridge.

HOSCHTON, Jackson County. Pronounced "Hush'-ton." Incorporated September 19, 1891. The first post office established here August 21, 1878 was named HOSCH'S STORE, after postmaster Russell A. Hosch, who ran a general store here.

HOT HOUSE, Fannin County. This early settlement was located six miles north of Blue Ridge on HOT HOUSE CREEK. This stream rises at the North Carolina line and flows southwesterly to enter the Toccoa River three miles below McCaysville. Named for a sweat house, a small structure covered with earth, which was used by the Cherokees in extremely cold weather.

HOUSE CREEK, Harris County. Flows into the Chattahoochee River. Formerly called OLD HOUSE CREEK, it was named for a former house, hut or place of refuge located nearby.

(BIG) HOUSE CREEK, Wilcox County. Was known to the Indians as AL-KA-SAC-KI-LI-KI, signifying "a kettle boiling in a creek." It rises between Rochelle and Abbeville, and flows southeasterly to enter the Ocmulgee River at the southeast corner of the county. An affluent of House Creek is LITTLE HOUSE CREEK in Ben Hill County. It rises about ten miles northwest of Fitzgerald to enter (Big) House Creek three miles before it flows into the Ocmulgee River. There is also a similarly named stream, BIG HORSE CREEK in Telfair County, which enters the Ocmulgee River midway between Jacksonville and Lumber City.

HOUSER MILL ROAD, Peach County. Runs southward from Byron to Mossy Creek. Named from a former mill which was located seven miles east of Fort Valley on Mossy Creek. HOUSER MILL was named after Andrew Houser, who purchased Clark's grist mill in 1865. The community here was originally called EVA. The place was washed away in a flood in 1928.

HOUSTON, Heard County. Incorporated as a village December 23, 1840. Also known as LIBERTY HILL, it was located near the Troup County line. Named for the Rev. H. W. Houston, a Baptist preacher.

"Story of Concord"

Church, moved to town in 1888 and Hebron, the Baptist Church, came in from the country about the same time. The schoolhouse at that time was a small building just across the street from the present one. The principal was Prof. R. D. Shruptrine of Thomaston, Ga.

The first charter was granted in 1887 and signed by Gov. John B. Gordon. In January, 1888, the first town council was formed, composed of the following members: E. M. Hooten, T. L. McLendon, W. E. Lloyd, N. B. Waller and J. C. Irvin. N. B. Waller and J. C. Irvin still live; the others have gone to their reward. Concord is an orderly and a prosperous town. For several years about 5,000 bales of cotton were marketed here, but the advent of the boll weevil has greatly reduced the number. The people take great interest in beautifying their homes, and several very handsome residences have recently been erected.

The following firms do business here:

CONCORD METHODIST CHURCH.

Salem Church was organized in the early days of Methodism in Pike County, but as the old records have been lost, we cannot give dates. Among the early members were the Fossett and Beckham families. In 1888, the church was moved to Concord. The oldest living member of the church is Mrs. Mary Mallory, a sister of ex-Governor Atkinson and mother of Dr. R. A. Mallory. After a long life of consecrated service she still abides, patiently waiting the Master's call.

Rev. W. A. Warwick is the present pastor. Names of

Board of Stewards: Dr. R. A. Mallory, Jesse C. Beckham John Fossett, and R. W. Hale. Number of members of church roll, 60. Sunday School Superintendent, H. H. Brandenburg. Number enrolled in Sunday School, 35.

John H. Hooten was one of the Stewards when the church was moved to town.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH

A Christian Church was organized at Pedenville Sept. 2, 1902. At a tent meeting held in Concord in August, 1904, it was decided to move the church to Concord. The present building was erected in 1905 and dedicated the same year. The first pastor was D. A. Brindle, who now lives in Griffin. The first Elders were W. L. Marshall and F. Mortimer Smith. The first Deacon was C. T. Smith. The church membership is about 100. The value of the church property is $2500. The Sunday School was organized in 1905.

Mr. Nathan Thompson the society held on for one whole year with only four members. In January of next year, it took on a new lease of life and now has fourteen members. Dues are paid, church is looked after, and local charity is carried on by these faithful few.

Williamson Baptist Church.

In 1869 a little Baptist band began holding meetings in an old field schoolhouse on Shannon Place. They determined to organize a church. In 1871, Providence Baptist Church was built near what is now known as Rover, Ga. The charter members were Mr. Allen Shackelford, Miss Sallie Shackleford, Mr. and Mrs. Joel Aycock and Miss Lizzie Aycock. Miss Aycock is the oldest member of this church now living (1922). The first pastor was Col. John D. Stewart, later Judge Stewart, who served the church for twelve or more years and built up one of the strongest country churches in the Flint River Association. The church was named by Mrs. Joel Aycock. The first deacons were Allen Shackleford and Joel Aycock, who continued in office until their death. Eight children of the Aycock family joined this church. J. W. Shivers was the next deacon and remained in office for years. The following served while the church was near Rover: Revs. Enoch Hooten, Elam Culpepper, W. U. Kendrick, Prof. Wm. Pritchard (an educator and preacher), Judge Jas. A. Drewry, and Rev. Geo. Garner.

THE BRIEF FAMILY HISTORY OF

1. THE HOOTONS IN GEORGIA -- My Trip to See them.

2. THE O'DELLS OF GEORGIA AND TEXAS.

3. THE HOOTONS OF TEXAS-- Our immediate family.

Compiled and Written by

Rev. James W. Hervey, D. D.

2610 Fourth Ave.

Groves, Texas

This Complication will be found incomplete as to facts and names of people who rightly belong in the family history, but I have left blank lines where names should be and I ask you to please write in such names where they belong. I am as far as I can giving all names except the children and grand children, and I am supplying blank pages for you to use in writing in the names of such in your own families.

Memory does not always help us to garner all the things we used to know about them. Many of my dear cousins whom I used to know so well have been separated from me most of my life and I know so little about their families. So you will pardon any omissions which you detect and write them in as suggested so you may have all the facts together.

I have worked hard for over three years to gather what you see here and I have made trips into other States to the old places where the Hootons lived and have gone to their old farms and to their old churches and cemeteries and have gathered what you have here by contacting many others and by going into Court Houses and going through books and documents to find what I could about our Great Grand Father Solomon O'Dell and his family and the family of Grand Father James Hooton, Jr.

All this has cost me over $100 and long hours of work. It all free to you and I am so glad to do it. Write me when you receive this, please.

THE HOOTONS OF GEORGIA AND MY TRIP THERE TO SEE THEM.

I used to wonder who Grand Father James Hooton left in Georgia when he and his family came to Texas to live in the year 1856. I lived all those 75 years not knowing anything about his kin in that old State. But we are always too busy to find out these things until it is too late. We wait until our fathers and mothers are gone and most of our uncles and aunts and older cousins, we have no one left to ask. Well in 1958 Gay and I visited our daughter Christine Smith and family in Florida and I planned a trip up to McDonough, Henry County, Georgia where our Grand Father James Hooton and Grand Mother, Mary Ann O'Dell lived and also where Great Grand Father Rev. Solomon O'Dell and his wife, Great Grand Mother Sarah (Childress) O'Dell and their children lived.

I went by Bus from Gainesville, Fla. to McDonough, arriving there at mid-night Friday, and as my cousin and his wife, with whom I had corresponded for some time about all this matter, knew I was coming, they met me and for those two days treated me like a royal guest. He is the main cashier in First National Bank, but he took the day off and took me to all the Hootons in that town and the country around where our folks had lived over 100 years before. This man was Clarence L. Elliott, Box 175 McDonough, Ga. His Great Grand Father was Moses Hooton who was a brother of our Grand Father James Hooton. On Sunday they had planned an all day service at Mount Bethel Methodist Church about seven miles from town where our Great Grand Father and his family went to church, including ofcourse our Grand Mother, Mary Ann (O'Dell) Hooton. I saw Solomon O'Dell's name on the corner stone of that nice church. It was a new church and the third one there, but they had kept the corner stone. We had dinner on the ground and all the Hootons in the country were there and I spoke and took pictures. So much for that. Now here are some names that will interest you:

James Hooton, Sr. Father of our Grand Father born in 1790 in North Carolina. He married Susanna Kidd. They came from S. C. with two brothers, William and Thomas Hooton and settled in Henry Co. and were among the first settlers there. Our Great Grand Father Hooton and wife had nine children: William Born in 1814. Moses born in 1816, Littleton who was killed in the war. Enoch , a Baptist preacher, James born in 1825, our Grand Father, Jincey D., Parmelia, Melvina, and Elizabeth. All these were brothers and sisters of our our Grand Father. All these were living when he left Ga. for Texas in 1856.

Great Grandfather

HAVE NOT FOUND A THOMAS HOOTEN, found "T." 2 WILLIAMS; HENRY + CHARLES IN 1790 N.C., MARTIN Co. HENRY HAS SON IN 1790 + 1800 THAT COULD BE OUR JAMES, SR. V.J.

Our Great Grand Father James Hooton, Sr. settled on Island Shoals creek in Bersheba District, about where the Moses Hooton Farm is now, about seven miles East of McDonough. I was at the Moses Hooton farm place. He was a brother of my Grand Father James. (I am writing in the first person mainly, so you can know your own relationship to the people I am writing about.)

The 1850 Census records of Henry County show that there were several heads of Hooton families, but James Hooton, Sr., was the oldest. Others were William and Thomas his brothers. It is believed that these men, or their father came from Europe with the Hugenots who fled that country and came to America to find religious freedom.

Most of the Hootons in Georgia were Baptists and their church was called Old Sharon. I was on the very ground where that old church used to stand. I was in the old cemetery and saw graves over 100 years old. I was also in the new Sharon church, a nice church, and I went inside and prayed in memory of my Georgia kin, remembering that my own Grand Father was a member of Old Sharon Baptist church over 100 years ago. He used to go with Mary Ann O'Dell to their methodist church a few miles away, MT. Bethel.

Moses Hooton was one of the outstanding Baptists in that early day. He was an Elder or Deacon and used to speak in public and hold meetings, even funerals for many people. Enoch was a Baptist preacher and Grand Father loved him so much. Speaking of Eno they told me over there that one time Enoch came to McDonpugh to preach, he did not live there at the time, and when they heard him some one said , "God called Moses Hooton to preach, but Enoch answered", meaning that Moses could beat his brother preaching. But Enoch was pastor in many places, in adjoining counties, and finally he ~~went across the State line into Alabamsto Talledaga~~, where he preached and lived there when he died and was buried there. Enoch married Sarah Shaw and they had six sons and three daughters, as follows: Lemuel also a Baptist preacher, Dr. Joe Hooton, Dr. John Hooton, Enoch , DeWitt Hooton, Annie, Minnie, and sue. There is a fine man named J. Enoch Hooton , a Grand son of Rev. Enoch Hooton, living in Nashville, Tenn.

[TALLAPOOSA, MONROE, GA]

Here are a few names of our kin in Georgia: Clarence L. Elliott P. O. Box 175, McDonough, Ga. Robt. S. Wynn, Rt. 1, McDonough, Ga. Tom Rivers, Rtl, McDonough, Ga. Mrs. J. E. Hooton, McDonough, Ga. These are Great Grand Sons of our Grand Father's brothers. I met Hootons who belonged to William, Moses, Enoch, families and lots of more distant relatives.

Here ARE some more names of our kin back in Georgia. People are the most important of all else in the world, next to God. Miss Ammie Hooton, School Teacher and her mother, McDonough, Ga. Miss Mattie Lee Morgan and Mrs. Ralph Morgan, McDonough, Ga. Mrs. Carl Sowell, McDonough, Mr. Joe Hooton and Enoch Hooton and A. B. Hooton, Covington, Ga. (They came 30 miles to see me at the all day service on Sunday at Mt. Bethel Church. Here are others whom I met at the Henry County Court House: Miss Bess Fouche, C. W. Ferguson, Mr. Childress (one of our kin), C. H. Bowen, J. S. Hunt, H. E. Cook, B. S. Crumbley, Judge T. J. Brown, J. W. Stokes, Mrs. R. A. Rainer, Mrs Lillian Thrasher, Mrs. Edw Turner, Mrs. Cosby Rape, Mrs. McMichael, (daughter of Mrs. J. E. Hooton. All these above named people live in McDonough, Ga.

The country here in Henry Co. is beautiful. Acres of rich land , good homes, fine large trees, Oak and pine, and pecan. I saw a very large Oak at the home of Moses Hooton which was set out by him over 100 years ago. I saw the largest pecan tree I ever saw and from that one tree in one year they sold over 500 pounds of fine pecans. I crossed Island Shoals creek on my way to the home of uncle Moses Hooton, and this creek runs into Okemulgee river. This river has a dam on it which makes fine lakes, not so far from the Hooton settlement.

I was entertained in the home of Clarence and Ida Elliott. He is a fine singer and leads the singing at the First Baptist Ch. in McDonough. His Great Grand Father, Moses Hooton, was a brother of our Grand Father James Hooton Jr. The reason I have written Jr. after the name of Grand Father, is because his father was also James Hooton, Sr. It is good to know the country and the people which make the good back ground for the Hooton Family in Texas.

As I have said every one treated me not only like a friend, like a father and were sorry my stay was so brief. Since leaving there Clarence Elliott has had his nice home remodeled and in the room I occupied for only two days and nights, he had a private bath installed and wrote me that he had fixed up "my room" and it was waiting for me when I would come back. How I love the dear people over there.

I have been writing about the Hootons of Georgia, but don't forget that our Grand parents were among them also, born there grew to grown young people there and married there and farmed and established their first home there and that all their children were born there except my own mother , Mary Jane (Hooton) Hergey. Also the 'ODells had their beginning in that country. Rev. Solomon O'Dell was ordained a Methodist Preacher in that community and married Sarah Childress there and I think about all their children were born there, before they left for Texas in 1855.

NEXT WE SHALL STUDY THE O'DELL FAMILY THEN JAMES HOOTONS.

BACK TO THE HOOTONS OF GEORGIA FOR SOME

LETTERS AND OTHER MATTERS.

I had written to several County Clerks in Counties surrounding Henry Co. asking for information about the Hootons and in two cases those Co. Clerks referred my letters to either Hootons or some one related to the family. I wrote to Pike Co. asking about Rev. Enoch Hooton and he referred or sent my letter to Mr. Joseph Enoch Hooton of Nashville, Tenn. and this cousin wrote me, so here is his first letter, the second one follows this.

Nashville, Tenn.
March 30, 1960.

Rev. James W. Hervey,
2610 Fourth Ave.,
Groves, Texas.

My dear Rev. Hervey:

Your letter of March the 23rd, to the Court of Ordinary, Pike Co. Ga. has been referred to me for any information which I might be able to furnish concerning the Hooton family.

First you will notice that my family spell the name HOOTEN and not HOOTON. (I put this word in about that change of spelling. I asked the Georgia Hootons why the change and I was told that it came with teen-agers in High School from the Hooton families who said "why not spell our names HOOTEN ? and so they kept it up and finally after many years all the HOOTONS began to spell their names HOOTEN.)

My Grand Father, Enoch Hooten did move from Henry Co. to Pike Co. Ga. He was a Baptist minister, and it is my belief that he originally came from Virginia, tho I am not sure about that. He passed away when I was very young and was buried in Talledega, Ala. He reared quite a large family, six sons and three girls. Here they are: My father, Lemuel Hooten, who also was a Baptist minister and lived in Pike Co. and Butts Co. most of his life; Dr. Joe Hooten who lived and died in Ellersville, Ga.; Dr. John Hooten who lived and died in Woodbury, Ga. ; Enoch Hooten who lived and died at Hollansville, Ga.; DeWitte Hooten and Jim Hooten who lived an died in Atlanta, Ga.; Annie Hooten who was married to a Jordan and lived in Molena, Ga.; Minnie Hooten who married a Dickson and lived in LaGrange, Ga. ; and Sue Hooten who married and lived in Hampton, Ga. As far as I know all my uncles and aunts on my father's side have passed away.

JOHN THOMAS JORDAN

NANNIE (NANCY LEE)

This letter continued on the next page and then his second letter to me follows.

As to my side of the Hooton Family I regret that I am unable to furnish you with more information, tho I might add that in my immediate family there were three boys and three girls of which I am the oldest. One brother died during World War I at Camp Merritt, N. J.; Grover L. Hooton lived and died at Woodbury, Ga. ; Lilla Belle Hooton died at the age of 22 months and Lucille Hooton married Grady Owen and they live in Savannah, Ga.; Lutie Kate Hooton is married to J. C. Adams and live at Zebulon, Ga.

Wishing you much luck in your endeavors and many more years of fruitful life,

Very truly yours,

J. E. Hooton,
1405 Sharpe Ave., Nashville 6, Tenn.

I answered this letter and received another in reply which follows here:

Nashville, Tenn. May first, 1960.

My dear Dr. Hervey:

In answering your letter of April 22, first I will endeavor to answer your questions: Rev. Enoch Hooton's middle initial was "M", but I am not sure what the "M" stood for. 2. I am unable to answer as to any change , if there was one in the spelling of Hooton. I have only known the name spelled HOOTEN, however I do know of quite a number who spell the name HOOTON. 3. My grand father, Enoch Hooten was well educated. But I know about the education of his brothers and sisters. I am now 69 yrs of age and retired. I was a Drug Representative for 34 years. During that time I covered the Eastern half of the U. S. All my my life I have represented a Philadelphia Drug Firm. My grand father, Enoch Hooten lived several years in Talladega, Ala. and was serving churches at the time of his death and is buried there.

When you have your Biography ready would you kindly let me have a copy as I would like very much to know more about the HOOTENS and the HOOTONS.

Very Truly Yours,

Joseph Enoch Hooten.

Another name of a cousin in McDonough, Ga. is Mrs. A. W. Carmichael, 141 Park Circle. She is a daughter of the Mrs. J. E. Hooten whose name I gave you above somewhere.

Here is an item which I wish to give you: I went by Bus from Gainesville, Fla. via Macon, Ga. and changed there and went on a different But to McDonough and arrived there at 12:30 at night. I had heard my mother say that her folks came to Texas from Henry County, Ga. Well about mid-night I happened to look out on my side of the Bus and saw the sign--"HENRY COUNTY". What a thrill came to me when I saw that sign.

THE O'DELL FAMILY HISTORY

Look this name up in history. An O'Dell was one time Govenor of New York. The Grand Sire of the O'Dell family in Texas was the Rev. Solomon O'Dell, born in 1805, I think in Georgia. He married Sarah Childress. She was born in 1808. They had eight children, most if not all of whom were born in Henry County, Ga. There were four boys and four girls. Dave, John, Matthew, Thad, Elizabeth, Fannie, Mary Ann, Mattie Lee. (More about these later)

Solomon O'Dell lived for a long time in Henry County, Ga. near the MT. Bethel Methodist Church which he and his family attended. I was at this church for an all day service and saw Solomon's name on the corner stone. They came to Texas to settle in South Cass Co. near where Harris Chapel Methodist Church is now and Rev. Solomon O'Dell preached the first sermon in the new church in 1859. Thay had come to Texas in 1855. Captain Harris gave six acres of ground for the building of the church and it took them longer to get the material together then to build and it was in 1859 before the church was completed, before that the people had met and worshipped in homes and in summer time under brush arbors. This Ch. has never ceased to minister to the community in over 100 years, and is now in its nice new church, the third one. It was my privalege to preach the Home Coming sermon there on May 7, 1961. It was then 102 years since my Great Grand Father, Solomon O'Dell had preached the first sermon there. And it was 75 years since my Grand Father James Hooton was buried from that church. I read his obituary in that service.

Great Grand Father and Great Grand Mother O'Dell are buried in the cemetery there as are also my Grand Father Hooton and wife and many other of our dear kin to awit the call of the resurrection morn. Solomon O'Dell's father was James O'Dell. He never came to Texas. Solomon O'Dell died April 11, 1862 and his wife, Great Grand Mother Sarah (Childress) O'Dell died Aug. 28, 1869. All their children married and reared families except Matthew who was killed in the Civil war.

Dave O'Dell married Bithe and they had four girls and one son. All are gone. John married Anna Willis, they had two boys, John and Roy. All gone. Thad married Aletha Griffis and they had 8 children: Ada, Sallie, Ruth, Dave, Claude, Matt., Annie, and Dolly. (More about these later on)

Elizabet O'Dell married Lynn Farguson. The had 3 girls and two boys: John and Will, Georgia married Marshall Mitchell. They lived in Greenville, all are gone. Fannie married Jim Goolsby. They had three boys and four girls, all are gone. One son was Meynard. They lived for a time at the old place where uncle Thad lived for many years. There they had a cotton gin which was run by horses going around and around running a big wheel which operated the machinery. Mary Ann married James Hooton Jr. in McDonough, Ga. Feb. 4th., 1845. (These were our Grand Parents) Mattie Lee married Charley Moore. They had 2 girls and 2 boys. Girls names Annie and Janie. They lived in Atlanta, Texas. All gone.

One of Elizabeth Farguson's daughters married a Childress who was a Sister of Great Grand Mother Sarah Childress O'Dell and one of their sons was the grand father of Ethel Childress who married my cousin, Marvin Hervey of Daingerfield. Marvin died in 1961, but Ethel (Childress) Hervey his widow lives there and she is related to us the Hootons and O'Dells on Great Grand Mother O'Dell's side of the house.

Mary Ann O'Dell married James Hooton, Jr. in McDonough, Ga. Feb. 4th., 1845. He was 20 years old and she was 16 years old. He was four years older than she. They had six children: Solomon, Manson (named after a fine gentleman of McDonough , Ga. by the name of MR. Manson. It is said that he was a great man and a leader) , William or Billie, John , Sarah or Sallie, Mary Jane. All these and most of their children are gone. More about them later.

Thad G. O'Dell was born in Georgia _____ and he came with his parents, Rev. Soloman O'Dell and wife to Texas in 1855. I do not know how old he was than, but perhaps about 11 or 12 or may be older. He married Aletha Griffis and to this union were born the following children: Ada, Sallie, Dave, Matt, Claude, Annie, Dollie. The only one now living out of this family is Ruth. I failed to write her name in above. Sallie and Claude both passed away in 1960 or 1961. There are a great many grand children and great grand children. I shall write a list of some of them later, but if I have left out any names will you please write them out in the margins of this booklet or on blank pages bound with this booklet. This O'Dell family have always been faithful to each other and to their church, old Harris Chapel.

MORE ABOUT THE O'DELLS IN GEORGIA.

As I have said I was in McDonough, Ga. May 15 and 16, 1960 to find out all I could about the Hootons and O'Dells . I saw lots of Hootons, but no O'Dells or Childress, except one man by the name of Childress and he knew nothing of Solomon O'Dell and his family. But I wrote to the Court of Ordinary (County Clerk) in Griffin, Spalding Co., adjacent to Henry Co. and asked him to let me know if he had on his records any O'Dells or Childress or Hootons. He replied with a list of names and addresses which I give you here. It seems plausible that our O'Dells came up to Henry County from that Co. or some other adjoining Co. And perhaps were the only ones who came to Henry Co.

HERE are the names:

These names and addresses were from the Tel. Book in March 1960. The city of Griffin has over 10,000 population.

Miss Ammie Hooten Teacher, 217 Keys Ferry St., McDonough, Ga. She is a fine lady and is a member of the Mt. Bethel Methodist Church and plays the piana there.

I have given you a lot of names, but some one has said that names of people constitute the greatest news.

AN ITEM OR TWO OF INTEREST.

Not all the Hootons were Baptists, many were, but in the early years there were more Hootons in the MT. BETHEL Methodist Ch. than and other name. In the old ROCK cemetery which land was given to the Presbyterian Ch. for a Church and Cemetery in 1838 by our Great Grand Father James Hooton, Sr. are the graves of Moses Hooton and wife and of Great Grand Father Hooton, our Grand Father's Father. I was there and stood with bowed head. I have copy of the deed that G. G. Father made to Presbyterians in 1838 Near this ROCK cemetery and Mt. Bethel Ch. is a village named OLA. I wonder if Uncle Billies daughter was named after this trading center for the Hootons.?

I have the following documents: Copy of Deed from Great Grand Pa James Hooton Sr. to 3 acres of land to the Presbyterian Church for a Church and cemetery. I was on this plot and in the Rock cemetery where he and his are buried. The Presbyterian is gone.

I have the exact copy of the marriage certificate of Grand Father James Hooton and MaryAnn O'Dell. Married at McDonough, Ga. Feb.4, 1845. It is framed and hanging over my bed.

I have copy of Deed from a Mr. Hunt to the Trustees of Mt. Bethel Methodist Church dated Jan. 5, 1849. The Chairman of the Board of Trustees in the Deed is Soloman O'Dell. So he lived there at that time, near that Church. They have a nice brick and stone church, the third one since 1849, with name of Soloman O'Dell's name on the corner stone.

I have official item stating that James Hooton,Sr. sold to Soloman O'Dell 30 square acres of land on Shoals creek for $90. 45. This was near the Mt. Bethel Church and it seems that he lived near there also. It was a big neighborhood with many farms adjdining and good land where they lived well and went to church and loved every body.

Great Grand Father James Hooton, Sr. did not make a will, but he deeded land to his daughter Jincey D. and her husband Frances Hayes in Newton County and adjoining Co. He also deeded land to two of his brothers, Moses and Littleton. So he must have been well fixed.

I have a record showing that Soloman O'Dell owned an interest in a Manufacturing and Milling Firm at Peachtree Shoals. The record shows that he sold this July 12, 1850. He was getting ready to go to Texas as he did in 1855.

I have been told that my Grand Father James Hooton was a quiet , rather sad man. I think I know why. Mary Ann, his wife, said to him, "Jim, I want to see Papa and Mama and the children,(they had gone to Texas the year before) lets go to see them, but back in those days you could not go visiting for awhile, when you went you had to go to stay and settle. So Grand Pa said, "well we will move over there where they are. Dear Grand Ma was happy so that year of 1856 they said good bye to Georgia, their native State and to all Grand Pa's relatives, never to return and never to see them again in this world. We have no record of any of them ever coming to see them, or that he ever went back. I know this made him very sad, and also he had to go into the civil war for four years in about 5 years after coming to Texas--coming back home only one time during the four years. Ofcourse he had something to make him seem sad. But he loved his wife and children and did everything to make them happy.I do not know just the route thay took to get to Texas, but I know they landed in Jefferson, Texas on a river boat, stern wheeler with the family and wagon and team and worldly goods, which did not amount to much. They perhaps came directly West from McDonough across Ala. and Miss. to Miss. River, crossing on ferry and on to Red River and up that to the Bayou that brought them to Jefferson.

More later about the Hootons of Texas.

JAMES HOOTON FAMILY HISTORY

James Hooton, Jr was born in Henry Co., Ga. Nov. 10, 1825. His father James Hooton, Sr. was born in N. C. in 1790. George Washington was President of the U. S. He married Mary Ann O'Dell Feb. 4th., 1845. She was born in 1829 in Henry Co., Ga. near Mt. Bethel Methodist Church. Her father was Rev. Soloman O'Dell and mother Sarah Childress Hooton.

To this union were born the following children: Soloman, Manson, Billie, Sarah, John, and Mary Jane. All these were born in Georgia unless it was uncle John. He was born in 1855 and that was the year the family came to Texas, but if he was born in Ga. he came here as an infant. Ofcourse my mother, Mary Jane was born at the Hooton home south of Harris chapel Dec. 22, 1864. Aunt Sally was three years old when they came from Ga.

More about all these children a little later.

Before leaving Ga. Grand Pa was a Baptist and Grand Ma a Methodist, but she said, "Jim, lets make an agreement that if we settle close to a Methodist Church you join with me and if its a Baptist Church I will join with you and we shall be in the same church". He said yes, and when they stopped to build their home it was in two miles of Harris Chapel Methodist Church and so he joined the church with her. Don't you see how a woman will find how to have her way? But Grand Pa was a good singer and he was appointed to lead the congregational singing and did so as long as he lived. (see his obituary at end of this booklet)

James Hooton built a nice home and had it painted. There were not many homes as good in that day. He was a very successful farmer and had every thing around him that he needed to live live well and take good care of his family. He loved good horses and during the last years of his life he had a fine saddle horse a bay named Ben, and he had a fine saddle and bridle and saddle bags and martin gales and old ben was a high stepper. Grand Pa had to spend four years in the civil war. He got home one time for a brief visit and to get a new suit of clothes. The southern soldiers were not all furnished uniforms so Grand Ma and aunt Sa Sally wove the choth and made the suit for him. When he came back from the war his children and others asked him if he killed any one and he said sadly, "I do not know, I hope not because I did not hate the soldiers on the other side, I did not try and I did not want to kill any one, but I had to stand in line and fire when they said to do so."

Mary Ann (O'Dell) Hooton was a beautiful woman and as good as she was beautiful. They brought their children up in a good home, sent them to school and carried them to church every Sunday. Grand Ma died at the age of 45 years. Her youngest, my mother was ten years old at the time. Grand Pa never married again, but Uncle John and aunt Mary moved into the Home with Grand Pa and my mother and there is where he lived and died. He died in 1886 in his 61 year. Their bodies rest in the Harris Chapel cemetery. Where also rest the bodies of Great Grand Pa Soloman O'Dell and Grand Mother O'Dell as well as so many of their children.

MANSON HOOTON, named for a fine man in McDonough, Ga. Mr. Manson. He was born in Henry Co., Ga. He came to Texas with his father and mother in 1856. I do not know so much about Uncle Manse and Aunt Tubby, but what I do know is good. He married Tubby Bruce and they had three children: Claude, Pinckey, and Clara. . All these children grew to maturity and were fine people. Clara, the youngest never married, and only last year in 1961 she died at the age of 78. She was the last of the family and her body rests beside her parents in the Hughes Springs cemetery.

Claude was a tall fine looking blond man. He became prominent in the Cotton Seed Oil Mill Business. He was able to put them down and get them to running for the Company, even went to South America to put them into operation. He married _____ and they had several fine children, one of two live in Houston, I believe and I do not have information as to them, or of Pinchey's family, if any one knows please write names and items in here: _____

Pinckey married Berta Glass of Hughes Springs and they had a nice home there, but after several years they moved to Greenville to be at the head place for his Rail Road work. He was a lover of trains and spent most of his adult life in the R. R. business. He finalwas tragically killed by his own train at Hughes Springs. He was Conductor of Freight train, and switching cars in the yard there he was run over by a box car. Dave Hooton ran from the store where he was clerking and Pinckey said to him, "Dave its got me this time" They reared a fine family and I believe that Berta and her children are living in Greenville yet. Sorry I do not know their names, but if you do write them in here:

These sons of uncle Manse got their love of machinery from him. He owned and operated a large plant on the R. R. near Avinger where he manufactured Lumber, Shingles, and ran a grist mill. As a boy I used to ride old Prince to his mill and get meal for the week to make good old corn bread.

The Manse Hooton family lived in Hughes Springs when he and his good wife died. They were fine Christians and were regular attendants at the Methodist Church. While living at his mill they attended the Methodist church in Avinger, but after selling his mill he moved to Hughes Springs not far from Uncle Billie Hooton's.

Uncle Manse was a good looking man. Had such a pleasant face and a bearing that attracted people and made him many friends. Aunt Tubby was witty and such fine company where ever she was. Clara was a good deal like her. Clara was a clerk for years in the stores of Hughes Springs, Keasler's and later in Morrison's store.

UNCLE SOL, as we called him, was a fine man and his wife, whom we children called Aunt Puss , was one of the best. Every one around her had a good time. She was so full of fun and so happy all the time. She enjoyed living. I used to ride my Choctaw Indian pony from our home below Harris Chapel to their farm near Pittsburg to see them

At this writing I believe that Jim is the only survivor in the immediate family at the age of 85 or 86. God bless him.

Uncle Sol used to say he could not wear over coats because they hurt his bones. He was tall and thin, but always up and going.

My mother, Mary Jane, told me about her mother dying at the age of 45 Years. A few days before she died with Pneumonia, something was disturbing the chickens and she went out and climbed the fence instead of going to the gate farther away and jumped down from the fence on to soft ground and left her foot prints. After she died mother went out and found these tracks and it nearly broke her heart, so she got some boards and covered the foot prints so she could keep them as long as she could, and as often as she could would go out and see them. Grand Mother Hooton died in their home where mother was born and where Grand Pa died, the only home they had in Texas. Mother was 22 years old and I was about four when Grand Pa died, but I remember about his going, how disturbed every one was. Uncle John ran into another room and nearly cried himself sick. He loved him so. All the family were there. In his last moments he repeated lines from the Hymn : "My latest sun is sinking fast, my race is nearly run, and the Chorus: "Oh come angel band, come and around me stand, Oh bear me away on your snowy wing to my immortal home." And he said, "If I had the strength I would sing it out so all could hear" Then he said, "Hallelujah" and bade his children farewell.

Grand Father was a splendid looking man, tall, straight, black hair dark eyes and ruddy face. He usually wore a beard without mustache, like Abraham Lincoln did, as so many men did in that age and time. Uncle Sol looked a great deal like Grand Pa when he wore a beard as he did often, also uncle John looked like him when he wore a beard. Aunt Sally resembled her mother even more than my mother did. Grand Pa wore a big broad brim hat, black, and was usually well dressed. I wish I knew more about them. I tin type pictures of them and an enlargement of these pictures on the wall.

Grand Pa wore a big silver watch and chain. The watch wound with a key and the chain had a hook on it which fastened in a button hole of his vest. I think he gave it to uncle John.

Grand Mother wore good clothes and was lovely when she dressed for church or went out to visit her neighbors.

NOW IT IS TIME TO TELL YOU ABOUT THE CHILDREN.

First Soloman, named for his Grand Father. He was born in Ga. May 20, 1846 and died Jan. 7, 1919. He married Sarah B. Reed, and she was born March 7, 1846 and died Nov. 9, 1918. They went from their first settlement below Harris Chapel to a nice farm near Pittsburg in Camp Co. A little son was born to them before they moved away and died in infancy. His name was Enoch M. Nov. 6, 1883. Named for uncle Sol uncle in Ga. The other children are:

Geneva Hooton, Nov 15, 1869, died Apr. 8, 1957.
Richard R. Hooton, Dec. 22, 1871-D d. Jan. 15, 1951.
James G. Hooton, June 21, 1874. (Only one of family living)
Joseph R. Hooton, March 17, 1877. d. Nov. 28, 1939.
Zack L. Hooton, June 7, 1879. d. March 10, 1915.

Uncle Sol sold his farm and moved to Pittsburg severy years be-the end came and their bodies rest in the cemetery in Pittsburg.

Clara Hooton suffered for many years with arthritis like my mother did for years. She told me that she often thought how her suffering was so much like Aunt Mollie's. I may be mistaken as to Uncle Manse being named for that fine man in Ga., but I know there was such a man there and uncle Manse was born there. My own father used to call him MANSON. But Minnie Edwards thinks that he was named for a Manse Childress a relative on his Grand Mother's side of the house. However that Mr. Childress may have been named for the fine man, Mr. Manson, in Ga. and so on.

WILLIAM HOOTON. Uncle Billie.

How that name rings in my ears. He was born in Ga. and came to Texas with the family in 1856. He married Emma Hervey and they had ten children, three girls and seven boys. They are: Anna Belle, Mary, Ola, Willie, Scyprett, Dave, Jim, Soloman, Alley T. and Carradine R. To write of these children is like writing of my own brothers and sisters, for we are double first cousins, having the same blood in our veins, making us closer kin than haff brothers and sisters. I could use several pages to write about them, but I have to confine myself to a few essentials. Uncle Billie was one of the most religious of any of the children. He was an outstanding church official and church worker, as was his wife also. Aunt Emma died at a revival meeting service and was at the time leading in public prayer, the last word she spoke being, "Lord save my children", and she was gone before they could get her home. Carradine, who now is a very prominent and leading Official in the great Methodist Church, was four years old. It was my sad duty to preach the funerals of Anna Belle and of Ola in the Methodist church at Hughes Springs. Ola may have been named for the town of Ola, Ga. in the Hooton community. Dr. Carradine preached the funeral of my Mother, his favorite aunt. He then was Pastor of First Methodist Church in Oklahoma City.

I am sorry I do not have the dates of births and the marriages and children and deaths of those who have gone before, for there are now only two left of that fine family: Dr. Carradine and Alley T. But here are spaces left for you to write in the names & and dates:

Anna Belle married a Mr. Skinner and after aunt Emma died she took Carradine with her and educated him in High School and State University at Austin and at Georgetown, our oldest Methodist U. Southwestern U. He graduated there and at U. Law School at Austin. He practiced Law for several years and then was called to preach, and has had an outstanding success in the ministry. Mary married Alvin Glass of H. S. Willie married Anna Keasler of H. S. Ola married Sam Abernathy, they had one son. Dave married Louella Shoemate and they had three children, a daughter who lives in Houston, two sons, Burgess Vice President First National Bank in H. S. and John David in P. O. in Karnack. JOHN HOOTON and MARY GRIFFIS.

Uncle John was the youngest son. He was born in 1855. I think in Georgia just before the family came to Texas in 1856. This means that all the children of James and Mary Ann Hooton were born in Ga. except my mother, who was born at the James Hooton home Dec. 22, '64 He first married Fanny Connor and thay had one son who died in infancy. Later he married Mary Groffis and to this union were born the following children: Please write in names and dates where they are missing. (Sorry I do not have all the data)

Uncle John and Aunt Mary brought up their children in the church at Harris Chapel and these children married and settled close to the old place and brought up their children in the church, where some are still members . Uncle John, like his father, loved good horses and mules and was a good farmer and a fine neighbor. He took care of his father and my mother after Grand Ma Hooton died at the age of 45 in the year1874, mother was ten years old. Grand never married again and uncle John and aunt Mary moved into the home and Grand Pa and Mary Jane lived with them. Ailey McCain was the first of this family to die and I being in Hughes Springs on a visit went to Harris Chapel and spoke at her funeral.

This was a fine family. Uncle John enjoyed the right kind of jokes and liked to tease his friends. A good joke was told on him once: There was a saw mill near his farm and he and his wife operated an eating house for the mill hands, so one day some one wrote this:

Bell's Mill
Collins' Town
O'Dell's Street

And Nothing to eat.

But aunt Mary was a fine cook and always had plenty of fine food to eat. It was a friendly joke. One fine big horse uncle John had was old Sam, a grey horse almost white. He was a fine saddle horse. Uncle John rode over to our house one day late in the evening and took Mary Anna and me in old Sam back home with him. Mama was going to give birth that night to ONEY S. my brother, that was May 11, 1889. This old Sam was the horse that Ernest first learned to plow. Uncle John and Aunt Sally seemed to be closer together than any of the other children and Billy and Mary Jane were closer together than others also.

A good story about Billy and John follows: Grand Pa had a fine double barrel shot gun, the very one he carried four years through the civil war and I had my picture made holding it in 1960 at Minnie Edwrds Cope's in Shreveport. Well, uncle Billy liked to hunt better than any of the boys and koons had been in the corn fields, so one Sunday morning Billy told John to make fires in fireplaces and in the kitchen and he would slip Grand Pa's gun out and go get the Koons. I was Billy's time to make fires, but John said all right, So down in the woods by the corn field Billy went and the gun fired twice. Grand Pa got him a switch off the dog wood brush broom and waited for Billy. Here he comes dragging something behind him, two koons. Grand Pa said, "Good thing you got them or you would get a thrashing."

SARAH or SALLY HOOTON

Aunt Sally was born in Ga. and was three years old when her folks came to Texas in 1856. She was a fine woman and a wonderful house keeper and mother. So much like her mother, more like the O&Dell side of the house. She was named for her Grand Mother Sarah Childress. She was a great help to her mother, helping her in the home in all the duties and in weaving cloth and making suits for Grand Pa and the boys and bed spreads and Coverlets out of wool.

Sally Hooton married Allison Alonzo Edwards Jan. 14, 1869. My mother, Mary Jane , was only five years old then. When a young man of 18 uncle Allison went to war for 3½ years. He told me the story of his return home: He rode up on his mule and hallowed at the gate and his father came out and said, "Get down, young man". He had grown a beard and his father did not recognize him, so said "come in and make yourself at home, I have a son in the war and I am looking for him most any day now, since the war is over, did you know him?" And uncle Allison said that he could not hold in any longer and said "I am Allison"--such a reunion that was.when he told me this story he cried so that he could hardly tell me. Uncle Allison was a careful and exact man, a good farmer, and a fine religious man and loyal Baptist as long as he lived. After they married he bought 160 acres and built a log house. Their first child, a boy, died in infancy. They had three fine girls: James William was born Oct. 30, 1869 and died Jan. 25, 1870. The girls were: Mary Anna, born March 30, 1873; Lela May born March 31, 1876; and Minnie Eugenia born July 21, 1880. She is the only living one of this family except four grand Children: Anna's two: Ennis and Minnie Mae. And Morris' and Wilma's sons: Kenneth and Karl. Minnie E. Cope lives at 4524 Greenwood Rd. Shreveport, La. and Morris' wife, Wilma and boys, Kenneth and Karl live with her. Minnie and her husband, James B. Cope had one child, Morris, born in 1912 and died in 1960 in Shreveport, La.

After Many years on the farm they moved to Avinger and Uncle Allison became Post Master until his death in 1912, then Minnie became Post Mistress for many years and afterwards was for several years in the Home Finding Society for Orphans in Jennings, La. Minnie has spent so much of her life caring for he family.

Lela married Claude Adams Aug 18, 1901 and Claude died Sept. 21, 1937. After several years Lela married April 17, 1939. She never had any children. Mr. Delaney , her second husband died Aug 12, 1951. And Lela died in her home in Shreveport March 25, 1959. Lela and Anna were fine women and religious and ready to go when they were called. Minnie is more like my mother in her religious and Spiritual interests than any one else in her family. She always warted to be a Missionary, but never realized her hope and calling, but helped to satisfy that urge by her loyalty to her family and her church. She is a natural musician, on piano, organ and violin. At many violin contests she won first prizes. She is a great reader of books, especially the Bible and is given to prayer and religious interests. She writes a great deal and has a wide list of correspondence even at the age of 80 years.

Time and space forbid me writing all I could wish to say about this fine family, especially about Minnie and Wilma and the boys, but I have to confine myself to statistical items mostly.

There follows on next page a list of figures relating to them.

MARY JANE HOOTON Born Dec. 22, 1864.

She was the only one of the family born in Texas, all others were born in Henry County , Ga. and left there in 1856. Her mother died when she was ten years old and she and her father made their home with Uncle John and Aunt Mary. Grand Father never married again. Mary Jane went to Daingerfield to a Boarding School when she was between 15 and 16 and lived with her Aunt Elixabet Farguson. While there she met my Father, A. G. Hervey and they married in 1880. There first home was three miles from Daingerfield in Morri Co. near Pappy Hervey, my Grand Father, and Uncle Thomas Hervey my father's only brother. It was there that I was born on Dec. 22, 1882. Also my sister, Mary Anna was born there in 1885 on Feb. 20th. Soon after we moved to the Billy Hooton place near Grand Father Hooton's and Uncle John and Aunt Sally Edwards. My father bought the place from Uncle Billy and he moved his family to the Mitche;; place near Hope School house. I believe Anna Bell Mary, Willie, and Scypretto were born at this place we bought.

We all attended Harris Chapel and before we moved we attended Bradfield's Chapel where the Herveys attended.

At this old place, we called it, Oney S. was born May 11, 1889. Florie Elixabeth was born there and died as a little child. Also Beulah Laney was born there on March 6, 1894. She was named Laney for Mrs. Bolton who stayed with Mama awhile. Papa bught the Jim Glover place in two miles of Hughes Springs in 1897. John Morris was born there Feb. 11, 1898. William Lester also was born and died there as a small child. Willie and Florie are buried at Harris Chapel. My father bought a home in Hughes Springs when I was about 18 years old where they lived for about fifty years and where they both died. The youngest, Albert Eugene was born at this home in Sept. 1906. Mother died here on Palm Sunday, March 17, 1940 and went marching into the New Jerusalem having her Triumphal entry into that City.My Father had them sing at her funeral that old Hymn: "How Blest the Righteous when they die--" Father was 83 when she died and lived a lonely life for six years longer and passed away April 17, 1946. MORE ABOUT THIS FAMILY IN THE HERVEY FAMILY HISTORY WHICH WILL BE OUT SOON.

In this document I have usually written in the first person, so for you to understand the relationship remember that Rev. Soloman O'Dell was my Great Grand Father and that James Hooton, Jr. was my Grand Father. Write me, my address is on first page.

OBITUARY OF JAMES HOOTON, Jr.

James Hooton was born Nov. 10, 1825 in Henry County Ga. and died September the 27th., 1886. He professed religion early in life and lived a happy, consistent Christian until the message came which bade him lay his armour down. Brother Hooton was a member of of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South at Harris Chapel. He was always at his post to lead the congregation in singing, but now he is gone and who, who Oh who, can fill his place?

His well ordered walk, his Godly conversation, and the melody of his voice in song were a power for good in the church and community. He was universally beloved, and was regarded by all who knew him, as a model of Christian excellence. He was a good citizen, a kind neighbor, a true friend, a loving father, and an humble Christian. What nobler epitaph could be written?

When asked concerning his prospects, he said :--"I am patient and reconciled. Everything is just right." Just before he died, he said: "I am happy, if I had strength I would sing". He then repeated this hymn:

"My latest sun is sinking fast,
My race is nearly run."

He then exclaimed: "Hallelujah" and calmly passed away.

His remains were carried to the church, where amid the tears and sobs of family and friends, we preached his funeral sermon and sang in sad refrain his funeral dirge, and gently laid down to rest, "to await the resurrection morn."

His Pastor.

I read this obituary at the Harris Chapel Home coming service on May 7, 1961 where I preached the sermon and where Great Grand Father O'Dell preached the first sermon in the new church 102 yrs. before. James W. Hervey .

I wish to thank the following for valuable help in furnishing me with information for this document. I ask that whoever receives this History that you keep it and cherish it for the Family History for the children now living and who shall yet be born.

"Famous Georgia Baptist"

ENOCH M. HOOTEN.

Rev. ENOCH M. HOOTEN is the son of James Hooten, a Virginian by birth, and Susannah Kidd, a native of North Carolina. His father was a man of more than ordinary native intellect, powerful will, untiring industry, but of limited education. His mother was a woman of remarkable piety and decision of character.

The parents were strict Presbyterians, and the son was brought up in that faith. At fourteen years of age he was enabled to claim a personal hope in Jesus, and united with the Presbyterians, leading, ever afterwards, a consistent Christian life.

His father was a farmer by profession, and reared his son to follow a farmer's life, until he reached the age of sixteen, having been able to afford him but one year's schooling. At sixteen, the son, in consideration of his personal freedom, voluntarily relinquished all interest in his father's estate, and, deeply impressed with the necessity of an education for himself, made that the predominating aim of his life.

Against difficulties and obstacles, apparently insurmountable, he battled, until he had acquired what may be denominated a fair education and had become a man of varied and extensive reading. For the educational training of one year he was indebted to the liberality of his Presbyterian friends.

At the age of seventeen he felt it to be his duty to preach, and in the fall of 1855, he was received as a candidate for the ministry by the Flint River Presbytery, at Newnan, Georgia. At that time he deemed affusion only to be Scriptural baptism, and was surprised to hear the Presbytery then in session decide that it was unnecessary to sprinkle a Baptist lady converted to Presbyterianism, even though she desired it, because in being immersed by a Baptist, she had already received Scriptural baptism. But what he considered most remarkable and inconsistent was, that this position was maintained by the very Presbyterian minister who had converted the lady, by convincing her that Presbyterian views in regard to sprinkling, were correct, and Baptist views, in regard to immersion, wrong. He reasoned that if the Baptists are wrong and the Presbyterians right, the lady ought to have been sprinkled; but, if immersion is Scriptural and valid baptism, as the Presbytery decided, logically, sprinkling is not baptism. He resolved to investigate the subject of baptism for himself, and this he at once commenced to do. The conclusion at which he arrived was in accordance with the views of Baptists, and he therefore decided that a man with such convictions should not become a Presbyterian minister, which idea was thenceforth entirely abandoned by him. His sentiments, proclivities and educational bias; his prejudices against the Baptists; his pronounced views in opposition to restricted communion; and his conclusion that baptism in itself was not essential to salvation, all combined to retain him within the pale of the Presbyterian denomination, and such he remained for fourteen years, living a consistent Christian life, in the eyes of the world, and earnestly seeking the best earthly boon—a good education.

The war came on, and he joined the ranks of his country's defenders, and fought unscathed amid storms of shot and shell, until smitten down at the battle of Fredericksburg. While lying in the hospital at that city, helpless and dangerously wounded, light came to him in answer to prayer, and he was enabled to discern the path of duty. The true Scriptural relations between faith and baptism, between baptism and church membership, and between church membership and communion were clearly discerned, together with his own personal duty, as a Christian, to preach the everlasting Gospel, and he promised obedience to the Lord, should he ever be permitted to reach home again. This occurred in 1863. The Lord brought him back to Georgia, although for many months he was confined to his bed and was entirely helpless, on account of his wound, and even when he was baptized by Rev. W. G. McMichael, on the 17th of September, 1865, he was compelled to use crutches. His first sermon was preached on the fourth Sunday in the following November, and, about one year afterwards, namely, on the 17th of November, 1866, he was ordained to the full work of the Gospel ministry. The presbytery consisted of Revs. W. G. McMichael, John Goodman and J. G. Kimball.

For the last fourteen years he has been faithfully serving various churches in Monroe, Spalding, Meriwether and Pike counties, within a radius of fifty miles, for periods ranging from two to eight years, having, during those fourteen years, baptized over six hundred persons and constituted two new churches. All the while, too, he has been suffering from injuries received in battle, and he has been known to walk six miles with a crutch and stick rather than miss an appointment. His labors have been eminently arduous, and self-denying. As a preacher, he is very clear and forcible, and while always a free and graceful speaker, he not unfrequently grows eloquent in his delivery. His discourses are didactic in style, appealing more to the reason and judgment than to the fancy, feelings or sympathies; consequently his sermons are usually doctrinal; yet he is never accused of being dull in the pulpit. For several years he has been Clerk of the Flint River Association, much to the satisfaction of his brethren. He has, also, been successfully engaged for a number of years in teaching, and was, at one time, the efficient Superintendent of Education for Monroe county.

Not only was the Milner High School built up by him, but he erected the building for the school at his own expense, and, for two years, charged nothing for its use.

In person, Mr. Hooten is above the medium size, and well proportioned, with blue eyes, auburn hair, and fair complexion. A man of fine conversational powers, full of good humor and pleasantry, he commands the confidence and esteem of all those among whom he has lived and labored. Self-denial and toil have marked his life and his work for the Master, the height of his ambition being to benefit his fellow man and make his exertions redound to the honor and glory of God and to the advancement of His cause.

Mr. Hooten was married to Miss Sarah C. Shaw, in 1856, at the residence of her father, in Jasper county, and the union has proved a very happy and fruitful one, twelve children having been born to them, all of whom are living but one, and all of whom have been educated to books and to labor alike, that they might be the better fitted for any station in life.

One of our ablest Georgia pastors, Mr. Hooten has, in his day and generation, proved himself a workman in the Master's vineyard worthy of the highest esteem, and a most useful and successful yet modest and unassuming preacher and man.

JESSE R. HORNE.

Rev. JESSE R. HORNE was born in Halifax county, North Carolina, in 1806. He moved to Georgia in his boyhood, and joined a Baptist church about the year 1830. He entered the ministry in 1850, and constituted many churches in Houston, Dooly and Pulaski counties. He was Moderator of the Houston Association for several years previous to his death, which occurred in April, 1872. He had only the advantages of an ordinary English education, having been compelled for the greater part of his youth to labor on the farm. He was a highly acceptable preacher to the masses of his co-laborers in agricultural

To Lois and Vivian,

This date of birth for James is incorrect I am sure. Someone (in Kidd family) first listed his dob as this. That James Hooten is in Mormon Rec., and son of one Thomas and Susannah Green, born Fluvana, Va.

I told Bob Moore this, but he didn't listen. I was real upset with him when I saw that he used it. I asked why he used that date, and he snapped at me kinda and said it was all he had. Also, there are not several of James' children buried there - told him that too. Only one known is Moses. William might be there, but he died in state hospital in Milledgeville. His estate records does not show expense for moving his body back to Henry County, but could have been in some of those records that does not explain what charges were for.

Also, I don't see in the deed where James requested the land be used for a cemetery. Lois, I think you copied this deed too. Do you see that? Minor, of course, but pleasssssse, stick to the facts.

The only other child of James that could possibly be buried there, is the one that married the McNair. I never proved she was, but James sold them land. I kinda feel she died in Butts or Dodge County. All others are accounted for.

Do you two remember Lillie Gentle, the movie star? She descends from my Littleton, through his daughter that married a Stephens. The Stephens died in Lawrence County, Tn. One of their descendants was there, and gave me Stephens records. One of Enoch"s descendants was there - failed to get her name, but she lives in Stone Mtn. Ga., I think she signed, and Bob will have her address. She had lots of old Hooten pictures, and, Vivian, one of Dewitt that has escaped us. She didn't know what happened to him either.

And, Lois, wonders never cease. Your Fields descendant that married the Miller was there. Her husband was one of SAR at dedication of marker for my Nimrod Jones, RS., in Carroll County, Ga. 1997. I had my picture made with him, but at the time didn't know who he was.

Hello Hooten Cousins,

We have put together a really nice booklet, in color, of the festivities at Hooten/Rock Cemetery on August 19, 2000.

This booklet tells the story of the cemetery and its origins. It has pictures of those who stayed for the picture taking ceremony.

We have tried to come up with a special price and have done the best that we can do. We have ordered a limited number of them, because of price. For those who are interested in purchasing them, please make a check in the amount of $20.00 made out to Emilie C. Wingfield and mail the order and check to me at the above address. These booklets that we have ordered will be mailed out as soon as they are ready, which should be next week. Orders will be filled on a first come basis.

I think that you would enjoy having one.

Yours truly,

Bob

was the son of James Luther and Martha Amoretta (Milner) Hooten. James Luther's father, James, was one of the twelve children of the Reverend Mr. Enoch M. Hooten and his wife Sarah C. Shaw. Enoch Hooten, a Baptist preacher who was also a teacher and a school-builder, was severely wounded at the Battle of Fredericksburg. James Luther Hooten's wife, called "Dixie," was the daughter of Richard Willis and Sarah (Ravens) Milner. Richard Willis Milner was the son of John Holmes and Elizabeth (Dabney) Milner. John Holmes Milner was the son of Pitt and Apsyllah (Holmes) Milner. Pitt Milner's parents were Captain John and Elizabeth (Goddine) Milner. Captain John Milner, the half-brother of William Pitt, Earl of Chatham and Prime Minister of England, immigrated to Virginia and came to Georgia after receiving large grants of land. A man of means, he founded over thirty Baptist churches and often preached in them with his musket by his side. The town of Milner was named for him. Sally (Hooten) Evans was president of the Study Club, the Library Auxiliary and a regent of the DAR. Charles Baisden Evans was a peach grower, a cattle raiser and president of the Evans Investment Company. Their children were Sarah Elaine and Charles Baisden Jr.

V. Saralaine Evans graduated from Wellesley College and taught in Turkey. She married Nicholas Byram Millet of Boston, who was born in China and grew up in Australia after his family had been evacuated on the "Gripsholm" prior to World War II. He was educated in England; received his Ph.D. from Yale and taught at Harvard. An Egyptologist, he did excavations in the Aswan Dam region and was a curator of the Royal Ontario Museum. His first Millet ancestor to arrive in America came from Hereford, England to New England in the middle 1600's. An early fishing ancestor exchanged an island off the coast of Massachusetts for a boatload of pickled herring. Nicholas had a great-uncle, Francis Davis Millet, a journalist and a painter, who lost his life in the Titanic disaster. Another great-uncle, Josiah Byram Millet, was a publisher and an editor, who was on intimate terms with many of New England's noted literary figures. Nicholas' father, Charles Sumner Millet, was in the State Department in diplomatic service and married Frances Williamson. The Millet line contained Howlands, Byrams, Sumners, Parsons, and Babsons among others. Nicholas Byram and Saralaine (Evans) Millet had two children, Lydia and Joshua Evans.

a. Charles Baisden Evans Jr., an ATO, graduated from Woodward Academy and attended Newberry College and the University of Georgia. He assisted his father in the family business.

Mary Evans, the youngest of the Albert Evans children, graduated from Agnes Scott College, where she was a member of Mortar Board. She married James Marcellus Lichliter, the son of McIlyar Hamilton and Gertrude (Larimore) Lichliter of Columbus, Ohio. He was the fifth generation of his father's family to enter the ministry. He graduated from Harvard, attended Union Theological Seminary, and graduated from Virginia Theological Seminary. Their children were Mary Christie and Bruce Evans. Mary Christie Lichliter graduated from Ohio Wesleyan University as did her husband, Bruce Taylor Alton. He obtained his doctorate from Ohio University with honor and was dean of students at Rocky Mountain College in Montana. Their son was Jamie Taylor Alton. Bruce Evans Lichliter, who attended the University of Michigan, served in electronics in the submarine service.

of Dr. Barney Brooks and Edith den Bleyker. Dr. Brooks, a native Texan, headed the department of surgery at Vanderbilt University Medical School.

The Brooks ancestry, which moved west through North Carolina and Tennessee, traced to an English sea-farer who was shipwrecked off the coast of North Carolina. Dr. Brooks' grandfather, James Gaston Brooks, fought with the Confederacy in east Texas, Louisiana and at the seige of Vicksburg. The wife of James Gaston Brooks was a daughter of Dr. Jesse Marshall Standifer of Georgia, a classmate of Dr. Crawford W. Long. He was the Army surgeon who selected the site for Fort Worth. On his mother's side, Dr. Brooks was a descendant of the Hardwicks of Colonial Virginia and Georgia. His great-great-grandfather, Colonel Hugh Montgomery of Jefferson, made the original land survey of much of the state of Georgia. As the Georgia Commissioner of Indian Affairs, he sent his son-in-law, John Wesley Hardwick and family with the westward migration of the Cherokees to the Oklahoma Ter ·ry.

L..h den Bleyker Brooks, who spent the last fifteen of her nearly ninety years as a Fort Valley resident, was the granddaughter of Henry Gilbert, a pioneer newspaper publisher, and of the leader of a party of Dutch settlers, Paulus den Blyker. Henry Gilbert, of Colonial New England descent, came westward from New York state and along the way, acquired the properties of a defunct Mormon newspaper. He founded thereon the Kalamazoo Gazette, one of the nation's longest-published newspapers. The Gilbert family also were founders of the Gilbert Toy Company, originators of the Erecto-Sets. Paulus den Bleyker, a Dutch Army engineer, financed the move of a group of Hollanders to the New World. He made a fortune reclaiming land from the sea at the Island of Texel. The arrival of the group was neither auspicious nor welcome, as the newcomers came down with a strange malady, and several died. The survivors spent dreary weeks in a rough "pest house" which had been hastily built outside the town. Paulus moved to set things straight. Kalamazoo had once been the state capital of Michigan and when he sallied forth to purchase a home for himself, he wanted only the best—the former Governor's Mansion. He staggered the locals by producing a bag of gold and paying for the house then and there. Thereafter, he was always spoken of as "The Dutch Governor." Mr. and Mrs. Albert James Evans Jr. had two sons: James Albert, who graduated from Culver Military Academy with honors and attended Georgia Institute of Technology where he was a Chi Phi; and Barney Brooks, who attended Culver Military Academy and was in the honors group.

Charles Baisden Evans, a Chi Phi, graduated from Georgia Military Academy and attended the University of North Carolina and graduated from the University of Georgia. He married Sarah Eunice, the daughter of James Erne ..d Bertha (Dickson) Hooten of McDonough. James Ernest Hooten

1. THE HOOTONS IN GEORGIA -- My Trip to See them.
2. THE O'DELLS OF GEORGIA AND TEXAS.
3. THE HOOTONS OF TEXAS-- Our immediate family.

Compiled and Written by

Rev. James W. Hervey, D. D.

This Complication will be found incomplete as to facts and names of people who rightly belong in the family history, but I have left blank lines where names should be and I ask you to please write in such names where they belong. I am as far as I can giving all names except the children and grand children, and I am supplying blank pages for you to use in writing in the names of such in your own families.

Memory does not always help us to garner all the things we used to know about them. Many of my dear cousins whom I used to know so well have been separated from me most of my life and I know so little about their families. So you will pardon any omissions which you detect and write them in as suggested so you may have all the facts together.

I have worked hard for over three years to gather what you see here and I have made trips into other States to the old places where the Hootons lived and have gone to their old farms and to their old churches and cemeteries and have gathered what you have here by contacting many others and by going into Court Houses and going through books and documents to find what I could about our Great Grand Father Solomon O'Dell and his family and the family of Grand Father James Hooton, Jr.

All this has cost me over $100 and long hours of work. It all free to you and I am so glad to do it. Write me when you receive this, please.

THE HOOTONS OF GEORGIA AND MY TRIP THERE TO SEE THEM.

I used to wonder who Grand Father James Hooton left in Georgia when he and his family came to Texas to live in the year 1856. I lived all those 75 years not knowing anything about his kin in that old State. But we are always too busy to find out these things until it is too late. We wait until our fathers and mothers are gone and most of our uncles and aunts and older cousins, we have no one left to ask. Well in 1958 Gay and I visited our daughter Christine Smith and family in Florida and I planned a trip up to McDonough, Henry County, Georgia where our Grand Father James Hooton and Grand Mother, Mary Ann O'Dell lived and also where Great Grand Father Rev. Solomon O'Dell and his wife, Great Grand Mother Sarah (Childress) O'Dell and their children lived.

I went by Bus from Gainesville, Fla. to McDonough, arriving there at mid-night Friday, and as my cousin and his wife, with whom I had corresponded for some time about all this matter, knew I was coming, they met me and for those two days treated me like a royal guest. He is the main cashier in First National Bank, but he took the day off and took me to all the Hootons in that town and the country around where our folks had lived over 100 years before. This man was Clarence L. Elliott, Box 175 McDonough, Ga. His Great Grand Father was Moses Hooton who was a brother of our Grand Father James Hooton. On Sunday they had planned an all day service at Mount Bethel Methodist Church about seven miles from town where our Great Grand Father and his family went to church, including ofcourse our Grand Mother, Mary Ann (O'Dell) Hooton. I saw Solomon O'Dell's name on the corner stone of that nice church. It was a new church and the third one there, but they had kept the corner stone. We had dinner on the ground and all the Hootons in the country were there and I spoke and took pictures. So much for that. Now here are some names that will interest you:

James Hooton, Sr. Father of our Grand Father born in 1790 in North Carolina. He married Susanna Kidd. They came from S. C. with two brothers, William and Thomas Hooton and settled in Henry Co. and were among the first settlers there. Our Great Grand Father Hooton and wife had nine children: William Born in 1814. Moses born in 1816, Littleton who was killed in the war. Enoch , a Baptist preacher, James born in 1825, our Grand Father, Jincey D., Parmelia, Melvina, and Elizabeth. All these were brothers and sisters of our our Grand Father. All these were living when he left Ga. for Texas in 1856.

Great Grandfather

HAVE NOT FOUND A THOMAS HOOTON, found "T." 2 WILLIAMS; HENRY + CHARLES IN 1790 N.C. MARTIN Co. HENRY HAS SON IN 1790 + 1800 THAT could be OUR JAMES, SR. V.J.

Our Great Grand Father James Hooton, Sr. settled on Island Shoals creek in Bersheba District, about where the Moses Hooton Farm is now, about seven miles East of McDonough. I was at the Moses Hooton farm place. He was a brother of my Grand Father James. (I am writing in the first person mainly, so you can know your own relationship to the people I am writing about.)

The 1850 Census records of Henry County show that there were several heads of Hooton families, but James Hooton, Sr., was the oldest. Others were William and Thomas his brothers. It is believed that these men, or their father came from Europe with the Hugenots who fled that country and came to America to find religious freedom.

Most of the Hootons in Georgia were Baptists and their church was called Old Sharon. I was on the very ground where that old church used to stand. I was in the old cemetery and saw graves over 100 years old. I was also in the new Sharon church, a nice church, and I went inside and prayed in memory of my Georgia kin, remembering that my own Grand Father was a member of Old Sharon Baptist church over 100 years ago. He used to go with Mary Ann O'Dell to their methodist church a few miles away, MT. Bethel.

Moses Hooton was one of the outstanding Baptists in that early day. He was an Elder or Deacon and used to speak in public and hold meetings, even funerals for many people. Enoch was a Baptist preacher and Grand Father loved him so much. Speaking of Eno they told me over there that one time Enoch came to McDonpugh to preach, he did not live there at the time, and when they heard him some one said , "God called Moses Hooton to preach, but Enoch answered", meaning that Moses could beat his brother preaching. But Enoch was pastor in many places, in adjoining counties, and finally he ~~went across the State line into Alabama to Talledega~~ TALLAPOOSA, MONROE, GA where he preached and lived there when he died and was buried there. Enoch married Sarah Shaw and they had six sons and three daughters, as follows: Lemuel also a Baptist preacher, Dr. Joe Hooton, Dr. John Hooton, Enoch , DeWitt Hooton, Annie, Minnie, and sue. There is a fine man named J. Enoch Hooton , a Grand son of Rev. Enoch Hooton, living in Nashville, Tenn.

Here are a few names of our kin in Georgia: Clarence L. Elliott P. O. Box 175, McDonough, Ga. Robt. S. Wynn, Rt. 1, McDonough, Ga. Tom Rivers, Rt1, McDonough, Ga. Mrs. J. E. Hooton, McDonough, Ga. These are Great Grand Sons of our Grand Father's brothers. I met Hootons who belonged to William, Moses, Enoch, families and lots of more distant relatives.

Lottie - b. Aug. 1893 GA.
Moses H. - b. Nov. 1894 GA.
Curtis b. - Aug. 1896 GA.

Here are some more names of our kin back in Georgia. People are the most important of all else in the world, next to God. Miss Ammie Hooton, School Teacher and her mother, McDonough, Ga. Miss Mattie Lee Morgan and Mrs. Ralph Morgan, McDonough, Ga. Mrs. Carl Sowell, McDonough, Mr. Joe Hooton and Enoch Hooton and A. B. Hooton, Covington, Ga. (They came 30 miles to see me at the all day service on Sunday at Mt. Bethel Church. Here are others whom I met at the Henry County Court House: Miss Bess Fouche, C. W. Ferguson, Mr. Childress (one of our kin), C. H. Bowen, J. S. Hunt, H. E. Cook, B. S. Crumbley, Judge T. J. Brown, J. W. Stokes, Mrs. R. A. Rainer, Mrs Lillian Thrasher, Mrs. Edw Turner, Mrs. Cosby Rape, Mrs. McMichael, (daughter of Mrs. J. E. Hooton. All these above named people live in McDonough, Ga.

The country here in Henry Co. is beautiful. Acres of rich land , good homes, fine large trees, Oak and pine, and pecan. I saw a very large Oak at the home of Moses Hooton which was set out by him over 100 years ago. I saw the largest pecan tree I ever saw and from that one tree in one year they sold over 500 pounds of fine pecans. I crossed Island Shoals creek on my way to the home of uncle Moses Hooton, and this creek runs into Okemulgee river. This river has a dam on it which makes fine lakes, not so far from the Hooton settlement.

I was entertained in the home of Clarence and Ida Elliott. He is a fine singer and leads the singing at the First Baptist Church in McDonough. His Great Grand Father, Moses Hooton, was a brother of our Grand Father James Hooton Jr. The reason I have written Jr. after the name of Grand Father, is because his father was also James Hooton, Sr. It is good to know the country and the people which make the good back ground for the Hooton Family in Texas.

As I have said every one treated me not only like a friend, like a father and were sorry my stay was so brief. Since leaving there Clarence Elliott has had his nice home remodeled and in the room I occupied for only two days and nights, he had a private bath installed and wrote me that he had fixed up "my room" and it was waiting for me when I would come back. How I love the dear people over there.

I have been writing about the Hootons of Georgia, but don't forget that our Grand parents were among them also, born there grew to grown young people there and married there and farmed and established their first home there and that all their children were born there except my own mother , Mary Jane (Hooton) Hergey. Also the 'ODells had their beginning in that country. Rev. Solomon O'Dell was ordained a Methodist Preacher in that community and married Sarah Childress there and I think about all their children were born there, before they left for Texas in 1855.

NEXT WE SHALL STUDY THE O'DELL FAMILY THEN JAMES HOOTONS.

BACK TO THE HOOTONS OF GEORGIA FOR SOME

LETTERS AND OTHER MATTERS.

I had written to several County Clerks in Counties surrounding Henry Co. asking for information about the Hootons and in two cases those Co. Clerks referred my letters to either Hootons or some one related to the family. I wrote to Pike Co. asking about Rev. Enoch Hooton and he referred or sent my letter to Mr. Joseph Enoch Hooton of Nashville, Tenn. and this cousin wrote me, so here is his first letter, the second one follows this.

Nashville, Tenn.
March 30, 1960.

Rev. James W. Hervey,
2610 Fourth Ave.,
Groves, Texas.

My dear Rev. Hervey:

Your letter of March the 23rd, to the Court of Ordinary, Pike Co. Ga. has been referred to me for any information which I might be able to furnish concerning the Hooton family.

First you will notice that my family spell the name HOOTEN and not HOOTON. (I put this word in about that change of spelling. I asked the Georgia Hootons why the change and I was told that it came with teen-agers in High School from the Hooton families who said "why not spell our names HOOTEN ? and so they kept it up and finally after many years all the HOOTONS began to spell their names HOOTEN.)

My Grand Father, Enoch Hooten did move from Henry Co. to Pike Co. Ga. He was a Baptist minister, and it is my belief that he originally came from Virginia, tho I am not sure about that. He passed away when I was very young and was buried in Talledaga, Ala. He reared quite a large family, six sons and three girls. Here they are: My father, Lemuel Hooten, who also was a Baptist minister and lived in Pike Co. and Butts Co. most of his life; Dr. Joe Hooten who lived and died in Ellersville, Ga.; Dr. John Hooten who lived and died in Woodbury, Ga. ; Enoch Hooten who lived and died at Hollansville, Ga.; DeWitte Hooten and Jim Hooten who lived an died in Atlanta, Ga.; Annie Hooten who was married to a Jordan and lived in Molena, Ga.; Minnie Hooten who married a Dickson and lived in LaGrange, Ga. ; and Sue Hooten who married and lived in Hampton, Ga. As far as I know all my uncles and aunts on my father's side have passed away.

ANN THOMAS JORDAN

NANNIE (NANCY LEE)

This letter continued on the next page and then his second letter to me follows.

As to my side of the Hooton Family I regret that I am unable to furnish you with more information, tho I might add that in my immediate family there were three boys and three girls of which I am the oldest. One brother died during World War I at Camp Merritt, N. J.; Grover L. Hooton lived and died at Woodbury, Ga. ; Lilla Belle Hooton died at the age of 22 months and Lucille Hooton married Grady Owen and they live in Savannah, Ga.; Lutie Kate Hooton is married to J. C. Adams and live at Zebulon, Ga.

Wishing you much luck in your endeavors and many more years of fruitful life,

Very truly yours,

J. E. Hooten,
1405 Sharpe Ave., Nashville 6, Tenn.

I answered this letter and received another in reply which follows here:

Nashville, Tenn. May first, 1960.

My dear Dr. Hervey:

In answering your letter of April 22, first I will endeavor to answer your questions: Rev. Enoch Hooton's middle initial was "M", but I am not sure what the "M" stood for. 2. I am unable to answer as to any change , if there was one in the spelling of Hooton. I have only known the name spelled HOOTEN, however I do know of quite a number who spell the name HOOTON. 3. My grand father, Enoch Hooten was well educated. But I know about the education of his brothers and sisters. I am now 69 yrs of age and retired. I was a Drug Representative for 34 years. During that time I covered the Eastern half of the U. S. All my my life I have represented a Philadelphia Drug Firm. My grand father, Enoch Hooten lived several years in ~~Talladega, Ala.~~ and was serving churches at the time of his death and is buried there. TRIMPOOSA. GA.!!

When you have your Biography ready would you kindly let me have a copy as I would like very much to know more about the HOOTENS and the HOOTONS.

Very Truly Yours,

Joseph Enoch Hooten.

Another name of a cousin in McDonough, Ga. is Mrs. A. W. Carmichael, 141 Park Circle. She is a daughter of the Mrs. J. E. Hooten whose name I gave you above somewhere.

Here is an item which I wish to give you: I went by Bus from Gainesville, Fla. via Macon, Ga. and changed there and went on a different But to McDonough and arrived there at 12:30 at night. I had heard my mother say that her folks came to Texas from Henry County, Ga. Well about mid-night I happened to look out on my side of the Bus and saw the sign--"HENRY COUNTY". What a thrill came to ~~me~~ when I saw that sign.

THE O'DELL FAMILY HISTORY

Look this name up in history. An O'Dell was one time Govenor of New York. The Grand Sire of the O'Dell family in Texas was the Rev. Solomon O'Dell, born in 1805, I think in Georgia. He married Sarah Childress. She was born in 1808. They had eight children, most if not all of whom were born in Henry County, Ga. There were four boys and four girls. Dave, John, Matthew, Thad, Elizabeth, Fannie, Mary Ann, Mattie Lee. (More about these later)

Solomon O'Dell lived for a long time in Henry County, Ga. near the MT. Bethel Methodist Church which he and his family attended. I was at this church for an all day service and saw Solomon's name on the corner stone. They came to Texas to settle in South Cass Co. near where Harris Chapel Methodist Church is now and Rev. Solomon O'Dell preached the first sermon in the new church in 1859. They had come to Texas in 1855. Captain Harris gave six acres of ground for the building of the church and it took them longer to get the material together then to build and it was in 1859 before the church was completed, before that the people had met and worshipped in homes and in summer time under brush arbors. This Ch. has never ceased to minister to the community in over 100 years, and is now in its nice new church, the third one. It was my privalege to preach the Home Coming sermon there on May 7, 1961. It was then 102 years since my Great Grand Father, Solomon O'Dell had preached the first sermon there. And it was 75 years since my Grand Father James Hooton was buried from that church. I read his obituary in that service.

Great Grand Father and Great Grand Mother O'Dell are buried in the cemetery there as are also my Grand Father Hooton and wife and many other of our dear kin to awit the call of the resurrection morn. Solomon O'Dell's father was James O'Dell. He never came to Texas. Solomon O'Dell died April 11, 1862 and his wife, Great Grand Mother Sarah (Childress) O'Dell died Aug. 28, 1869. All their children married and reared families except Matthew who was killed in the Civil war.

Dave O'Dell married Bithe and they had four girls and one son. All are gone. John married Anna Willis, they had two boys, John and Roy. All gone. Thad married Aletha Griffis and they had 8 children: Ada, Sallie, Ruth, Dave, Claude, Matt., Annie, and Dolly. (More about these later on)

Elizabet O'Dell married Lynn Farguson. The had 3 girls and two boys: John and Will, Georgia married Marshall Mitchell. They lived in Greenville, all are gone. Fannie married Jim Goolsby. They had three boys and four girls, all are gone. One son was Meynard. They lived for a time at the old place where uncle Thad lived for many years. There they had a cotton gin which was run by horses going around and around running a big wheel which operated the machinery. Mary Ann married James Hooton Jr. in McDonough, Ga. Feb. 4th., 1845. (These were our Grand Parents) Mattie Lee married Charley Moore. They had 2 girls and 2 boys. Girls names Annie and Janie. They lived in Atlanta, Texas. All gone.

One of Elizabeth Farguson's daughters married a Childress wh was a brother of Great Grand Mother Sarah Childress O'Dell and one of their sons was the grand father of Ethel Childress who married my cousin, Marvin Hervey of Daingerfield. Marvin died in 1961, but Ethel (Childress) Hervey his widow lives there and she is related to us the Hortons and O'Dells on Great Grand Mother O'Dell's side of the house.

Mary Ann O'Dell married James Hooton, Jr. in McDonough, Ga. Feb. 4th., 1845. He was 20 years old and she was 16 years old. He was four years older than she. They had six children: Solomon, Manson (named after a fine gentleman of McDonough , Ga. by the name of MR. Manson. It is said that he was a great man and a leader) , William or Billie, John , Sarah or Sallie, Mary Jane. All these and most of their children are gone. More about them later.

Thad G. O'Dell was born in Georgia _____ and he came with his parents, Rev. Soloman O'Dell and wife to Texas in 1855. I do not know how old he was than, but perhaps about 11 or 12 or may be older. He married Aletha Griffis and to this union were born the following children: Ada, Sallie, Dave, Matt, Claude, Annie, Dollie. The only one now living out of this family is Ruth. I failed to write her name in above. Sallie and Claude both passed away in 1960 or 1961. There are a great many grand children and great grand children. I shall write a list of some of them later, but if I have left out any names will you please write them out in the margins of this booklet or on blank pages bound with this booklet. This O'Dell family have always been faithful to each other and to their church, old Harris Chapel.

MORE ABOUT THE O'DELLS IN GEORGIA.

As I have said I was in McDonough, Ga. May 15 and 16, 1960 t find out all I could about the Hootons and O'Dells . I saw lots of Hootons, but no O'Dells or Childress, except one man by the name of Childress and he knew nothing of Solomon O'Dell and his family. But I wrote to the Court of Ordinary (County Clerk) in Griffin, Spalding Co., adjacent to Henry Co. and asked him to let me know if he had on his records any O'Dells or Childress or Hootons. He replied with a list of names and addresses which I give you here. It seems plausible that our O'Dells came up to Henry County from that Co. or some other adjoining Co. And perhaps were the only ones who came to Henry Co.

HERE are the names:

These names and addresses were from the Tel. Book in March 1960. The city of Griffin has over 10,000 population.

Miss Ammie Hooten Teacher, 217 Keys Ferry St., McDonough, Ga. She is a fine lady and is a member of the Mt. Bethel Methodist Church and plays the piana there.

I have given you a lot of names, but some one has said that names of people constitute the greatest news.

AN ITEM OR TWO OF INTEREST.

Not all the Hootons were Baptists, many were, but in the early years there were more Hootons in the MT. BETHEL Methodist Ch. than and other name. In the old ROCK cemetery which land was given to the Presbyterian Ch. for a Church and Cemetery in 1838 by our Great Grand Father James Hooton, Sr. are the graves of Moses Hooton and wife and of Great Grand Father Hooton, our Grand Father's Father. I was there and stood with bowed head. I have copy of the deed that G. G. Father made to Presbyterians in 1838 Near this ROCK cemetery and Mt. Bethel Ch. is a village named OLA. I wonder if Uncle Billies daughter was named after this trading center for the Hootons.?

I have the following documents: Copy of Deed from Great Grand Pa James Hooton Sr. to 3 acres of land to the Presbyterian Church for a Church and cemetery. It was on this plot and in the north cemetery where he and his are buried. The Presbyterian is gone.

I have the exact copy of the marriage certificate of Grand Father James Hooton and MaryAnn O'Dell. Married at McDonough, Ga. Feb. 4, 1845. It is framed and hanging over my bed.

I have copy of Deed from a Mr. Hunt to the Trustees of Mt. Bethel Methodist Church dated Jan. 5, 1849. The Chairman of the Board of Trustees in the Deed is Soloman O'Dell. So he lived there at that time, near that Church. They have a nice brick and stone church, the third one since 1849, with name of Soloman O'Dell's name on the corner stone.

I have official item stating that James Hooton, Sr. sold to Soloman O'Dell 30 square acres of land on Shoals creek for $90. 45. This was near the Mt. Bethel Church and it seems that he lived near there also. It was a big neighborhood with many farms adjoining and good land where they lived well and went to church and loved every body.

Great Grand Father James Hooton, Sr. did not make a will, but he deeded land to his daughter Jincey D. and her husband Frances Hayes in Newton County and adjoining Co. He also deeded land to two of his brothers, Moses and Littleton. So he must have been well fixed.

I have a record showing that Soloman O'Dell owned an interest in a Manufacturing and Milling Firm at Peachtree Shoals. The record shows that he sold this July 12, 1850. He was getting ready to go to Texas as he did in 1855.

I have been told that my Grand Father James Hooton was a quiet , rather sad man. I think I know why. Mary Ann, his wife, said to him, "Jim, I want to see Papa and Mama and the children,(they had gone to Texas the year before) lets go to see them, but back in those days you could not go visiting for awhile, when you went you had to go to stay and settle. So Grand Pa said, "well we will move over there where they are. Dear Grand Ma was happy so that year of 1856 they said good bye to Georgia, their native State and to all Grand Pa's relatives, never to return and never to see them again in this world. We have no record of any of them ever coming to see them, or that he ever went back. I know this made him very sad, and also he had to go into the civil war for four years in about 5 years after coming to Texas--coming back home only one time during the four years. Ofcourse he had something to make him seem sad. But he loved his wife and children and did everything to make them happy.I do not know just the route thay took to get to Texas, but I know they landed in Jefferson, Texas on a river boat, stern wheeler with the family and wagon and team and worldly goods, which did not amount to much. They perhaps came directly West from McDonough across Ala. and Miss. to Miss. River, crossing on ferry and on to Red River and up that to the Bayou that brought them to Jefferson.

More later about the Hootons of Texas.

JAMES HOOTON FAMILY HISTORY

James Hooton, Jr was born in Henry Co., Ga. Nov. 10, 1845. father James Hooton, Sr. was born in N. C. in 1790. George Washington was President of the U. S. He married Mary Ann O'Dell Feb. 4th., 1845. She was born in 1829 in Henry Co., Ga. near Mt. Bethel Methodist Church. Her father was Rev. Soloman O'Dell and mother Sarah Childress Hooton.

To this union were born the following children: Soloman, Manson, Billie, Sarah, John, and Mary Jane. All these were born in Georgia unless it was uncle John. He was born in 1855 and that was the year the family came to Texas, but if he was born in Ga. he came here as an infant. Ofcourse my mother, Mary Jane was born at the Hooton home south of Harris chapel Dec. 22, 1864. Aunt Sally was three years old when they came from Ga.

More about all these children a little later.

Before leaving Ga. Grand Pa was a Baptist and Grand Ma a Methodist, but she said, "Jim, lets make an agreement that if we settle close to a Methodist Church you join with me and if its a Baptist Church I will join with you and we shall be in the same church". He said yes, and when they stopped to build their home it was in two miles of Harris Chapel Methodist Church and so he joined the church with her. Don't you see how a woman will find how to have her way? But Grand Pa was a good singer and he was appointed to lead the congregational singing and did so as long as he lived. (see his obituary at end of this booklet)

James Hooton built a nice home and had it painted. There were not many homes as good in that day. He was a very successful farmer and had every thing around him that he needed to live live well and take good care of his family. He loved good horses and during the last years of his life he had a fine saddle horse a bay named Ben, and he had a fine saddle and bridle and saddle bags and martin gales and old ben was a high stepper. Grand Pa had to spend four years in the civil war. He got home one time for a brief visit and to get a new suit of clothes. The southern soldiers were not all furnished uniforms so Grand Ma and aunt Sa Sally wove the choth and made the suit for him. When he came back from the war his children and others asked him if he killed any one and he said sadly, "I do not know, I hope not because I did not hate the soldiers on the other side, I did not try and I did not want to kill any one, but I had to stand in line and fire when they said to do so."

Mary Ann (O'Dell) Hooton was a beautiful woman and as good as she was beautiful. They brought their children up in a good home, sent them to school and carried them to church every Sunday. Grand Ma died at the age of 45 years. Her youngest, my mother was ten years old at the time. Grand Pa never married again, but Uncle John and aunt Mary moved into the Home with Grand Pa and my mother and there is where he lived and died. He died in 1886 in his 61 year. Their bodies rest in the Harris Chapel cemetery. Where also rest the bodies of Great Grand Pa Soloman O'Dell and Grand Mother O'Dell as well as so many of their children.

MANSON HOOTON, named for a fine man in McDonough, Ga. Mr. Manson. He was born in Henry Co., Ga. He came to Texas with his father and mother in 1856. I do not know so much about Uncle Manse and Aunt Tubby, but what I do know is good. He married Tubby Bruce and they had three children: Claude, Pinckey, and Clara. . All these children grew to maturity and were fine people. Clara, the youngest never married, and only last year in 1961 she died at the age of 78. She was the last of the family and her body rests beside her parents in the Hughes Springs cemetery.

Claude was a tall fine looking blond man. He became prominent in the Cotton Seed Oil Mill Business. He was able to put them down and get them to running for the Company, even went to South America to put them into operation. He married _____ and they had several fine children, one of two live in Houston, I believe and I do not have information as to them, or of Pinchey's family, if any one knows please write names and items in here: _____

Pinckey married Berta Glass of Hughes Springs and they had a nice home there, but after several years they moved to Greenville to be at the head place for his Rail Road work. He was a lover of trains and spent most of his adult life in the R. R. business. He finally was tragically killed by his own train at Hughes Springs. He was Conductor of Freight train, and switching cars in the yard there he was run over by a box car. Dave Hooton ran from the store where he was clerking and Pinckey said to him, "Dave its got me this time" They reared a fine family and I believe that Berta and her children are living in Greenville yet. Sorry I do not know their names, but if you do write them in here:

These sons of uncle Manse got their love of machinery from him. He owned and operated a large plant on the R. R. near Avinger where he manufactured Lumber, Shingles, and ran a grist mill. As a boy I used to ride old Prince to his mill and get meal for the week to make good old corn bread.

The Manse Hooton family lived in Hughes Springs when he and his good wife died. They were fine Christians and were regular attendants at the Methodist Church. While living at his mill they attended the Methodist church in Avinger, but after selling his mill he moved to Hughes Springs not far from Uncle Billie Hooton's.

Uncle Manse was a good looking man. Had such a pleasant face and a bearing that attracted people and made him many friends. Aunt Tubby was witty and such fine company where ever she was. Clara was a good deal like her. Clara was a clerk for years in the stores of Hughes Springs, Keasler's and later in Morrison's store.

UNCLE SOL, as we called him, was a fine man and his wife, whom we children called Aunt Puss , was one of the best. Every one around her had a good time. She was so full of fun and so happy all the time. She enjoyed living. I used to ride my Choctaw Indian pony from our home below Harris Chapel to their farm near Pittsburg to see them

At this writing I believe that Jim is the only survivor in the immediate family at the age of 85 or 86. God bless him.

Uncle Sol used t say he could not wear over coats because they hurt his bones. He was tall and thin, but always up and going.

My mother, Mary Jane, told me about her mother dying at the age of 45 Years. A few days before she died with Pneumonia, something was disturbing the chickens and she went out and climbed the fence instead of going to the gate farther away and jumped down from the fence on to soft ground and left her foot prints. After she died mother went out and found those tracks and it nearly broke her heart, so she got some boards and covered the foot prints so she could keep them as long as she could, and as often as she could would go out and see them. Grand Mother Hooton died in their home where mother was born and where Grand Pa died, the only home they had in Texas. Mother was 22 years old and I was about four when Grand Pa died, but I remember about his going, how disturbed every one was. Uncle John ran into another room and nearly cried himself sick. He loved him so. All the family were there. In his last moments he repeated lines from the Hymn : "My latest sun is sinking fast, my race is nearly run, and the Chorus: "Oh come angel band, come and around me stand, Oh bear me away on your snowy wing to my immortal home." And he said, "If I had the strength I would sing it out so all could hear" Then he said, "Hallelujah" and bade his children farewell.

Grand Father was a splendid looking man, tall, straight, black hair dark eyes and ruddy face. He usually wore a beard without mustache, like Abraham Lincoln did, as so many men did in that age and time. Uncle Sol looked a great deal like Grand Pa when he wore a beard as he did often, also uncle John looked like him when he wore a beard. Aunt Sally resembled her mother even more than my mother did. Grand Pa wore a big broad brim hat, black, and was usually well dressed. I wish I knew more about them. I tin type pictures of them and an enlargement of these pictures on the wall.

Grand Pa wore a big silver watch and chain. The watch wound with a key and the chain had a hook on it which fastened in a button hole of his vest. I think he gave it to uncle John.

Grand Mother wore good clothes and was lovely when she dressed for church or went out to visit her neighbors.

NOW IT IS TIME TO TELL YOU ABOUT THE CHILDREN.

First Soloman, named for his Grand Father. He was born in Ga. May 20, 1846 and died Jan. 7, 1919. He married Sarah B. Reed, and she was born March 7, 1846 and died Nov. 9, 1918. They went from their first settlement below Harris Chapel to a nice farm near Pittsburg in Camp Co. A little son was born to them before they moved away and died in infancy. His name was Enoch M. Nov. 6, 1883. Named for uncle Sol uncle in Ga. The other children are:

Geneva Hooton, Nov 15, 1869, died Apr. 8, 1957.
Richard R. Hooton, Dec. 22, 1871-D d. Jan. 15, 1951.
James G. Hooton, June 21, 1874. (Only one of family living)
Joseph R. Hooton, March 17, 1877. d. Nov. 28, 1939.
Zack L. Hooton, June 7, 1879. d. March 10, 1915.

Uncle Sol sold his farm and moved to Pittsburg severy years be- the end came and their bodies rest in the cemetery in Pittsburg.

Clara Hooton suffered for many years with arthritis like my mother did for years. She told me that she often thought how her suffering was so much like aunt mollie's. I may be mistaken as to Uncle Manse being named for that fine man in Ga., but I know there was such a man there and uncle Manse was born there. My own father used to call him MANSON. But Minnie Edwards thinks that he was named for a Manse Childress a relative on his Grand Mother's side of the house. However that Mr. Childress may have been named for the fine man, Mr. Manson, in Ga. and so on.

WILLIAM HOOTON. Uncle Billie.

How that name rings in my ears. He was born in Ga. and came to Texas with the family in 1856. He married Emma Hervey and they had ten children, three girls and seven boys. They are: Anna Belle, Mary, Ola, Willie, Scyprett, Dave, Jim, Soloman, Alley T. and Carradine R. To write of these children is like writing of my own brothers and sisters, for we are double first cousins, having the same blood in our veins, making us closer kin than haff brothers and sisters. I could use several pages to write about them, but I have to confine myself to a few essentials. Uncle Billie was one of the most religious of any of the children. He was an outstanding church official and church worker, as was his wife also. Aunt Emma died at a revival meeting service and was at the time leading in public prayer, the last word she spoke being, "Lord save my children", and she was gone before they could get her home. Carradine, who now is a very prominent and leading Official in the great Methodist Church, was four years old. It was my sad duty to preach the funerals of Anna Belle and of Ola in the Methodist church at Hughes Springs. Ola may have been named for the town of Ola, Ga. in the Hooton community. Dr. Carradine preached the funeral of my Mother, his favorite aunt. He then was Pastor of First Methodist Church in Oklahoma City.

I am sorry I do not have the dates of births and the marriages and children and deaths of those who have gone before, for there are now only two left of that fine family: Dr. Carradine and Alley T. But here are spaces left for you to write in the names and dates:

Anna Belle married a Mr. Skinner and after aunt Emma died she took Carradine with her and educated him in High School and State University at Austin and at Georgetown, our oldest Methodist U. Southwestern U. He graduated there and at U. Law School at Austin. He practiced Law for several years and then was called to preach, and has had an outstanding success in the ministry. Mary married Alvin Glass of H. S. Willie married Anna Keasler of H. S. Ola married Sam Abernathy, they had one son. Dave married Louella Shoemate and they had three children, a daughter who lives in Houston, two sons, Burgess Vice President First National Bank in H. S. and John David in P. O. in Karnack. JOHN HOOTON and MARY GRIFFIS.

Uncle John was the youngest son. He was born in 1855. I think in Georgia just before the family came to Texas in 1856. This means that all the children of James and Mary Ann Hooton were born in Ga. except my mother, who was born at the James Hooton home Dec. 22, '64 He first married Fanny Connor and that had one son who died in infancy. Later he married Mary Groffis and to this union were born the following children: Please write in names and dates where they are missing. (Sorry I do not have all the data)

Uncle John and Aunt Mary brought up their children in the church at Harris Chapel and these children married and settled close to the old place and brought up their children in the church, where some are still members . Uncle John, like his father, loved good horses and mules and was a good farmer and a fine neighbor. He took care of his father and my mother after Grand Ma Hooton died at the age of 45 in the year1874, mother was ten years old. Grand never married again and uncle John and aunt Mary moved into the home and Grand Pa and Mary Jane lived with them. Ailey McCain was the first of this family to die and I being in Hughes Springs on a visit went to Harris Chapel and spoke at her funeral.

This was a fine family. Uncle John enjoyed the right kind of jokes and liked to tease his friends. A good joke was told on him once: There was a saw mill near his farm and he and his wife operated an eating house for the mill hands, so one day some one wrote this:

Bell's Mill
Collins' Town
O'Dell's Street
Hooton's Hotel
And Nothing to eat.

But aunt Mary was a fine cook and always had plenty of fine food to eat. It was a friendly joke. One fine big horse uncle John had was old Sam, a grey horse almost white. He was a fine saddle horse. Uncle John rode over to our house one day late in the evening and took Mary Anna and me in old Sam back home with him. Mama was going to give birth that night to ONEY S. my brother, that was May 11, 1889. This old Sam was the horse that Ernest first learned to plow. Uncle John and Aunt Sally seemed to be closer together than any of the other children and Billy and Mary Jane were closer together than others also.

A good story about Billy and John follows: Grand Pa had a fine double barrel shot gun, the very one he carried four years through the civil war and I had my picture made holding it in 1960 at Minnie Edwrds Cope's in Shreveport. Well, uncle Billy liked to hunt better than any of the boys and koons had been in the corn fields, so one Sunday morning Billy told John to make fires in fireplaces and in the kitchen and he would slip Grand Pa's gun out and go get the Koons. I was Billy's time to make fires, but John said all right, So down in the woods by the corn field Billy went and the gun fired twice. Grand Pa got him a switch off the dog wood brush broom and waited for Billy. Here he comes dragging something behind him, two koons. Grand Pa said, "Good thing you got them or you would get a thrashing."

SARAH or SALLY HOOTON

Aunt Sally was born in Ga. and was three years old when her folks came to Texas in 1856. She was a fine woman and a wonderful house keeper and mother. So much like her mother, more like the O&Dell side of the house. She was named for her Grand Mother Sarah Childress. She was a great help to her mother, helping her in the home in all the duties and in weaving cloth and making suits for Grand Pa and the boys and bed spreads and Coverlets out of wool.

Sally Hooton married Allison Alonzo Edwards Jan. 14, 1869. My mother, Mary Jane , was only five years old then. When a young man of 18 uncle Allison went to war for 3½ years. He told me the story of his return home: He rode up on his mule and hallowed at the gate and his father came out and said, "Get down, young man". He had grown a beard and his father did not recognize him, so said "come in and make yourself at home, I have a son in the war and I am looking for him most any day now, since the war is over, did you know him?" And uncle Allison said that he could not hold in any longer and said "I am Allison"--such a reunion that was.when he told me this story he cried so that he could hardly tell me. Uncle Allison was a careful and exact man, a good farmer, and a fine religious man and loyal Baptist as long as he lived. After they married he bought 160 acres and built a log house. Their first child, a boy, died in infancy. They had three fine girls: James William was born Oct. 30, 1869 and died Jan. 25, 1870. The girls were: Mary Anna, born March 30, 1873; Lela May born March 31, 1876; and Minnie Eugenia born July 21, 1880. She is the only living one of this family except four grand Children: Anna's two: Ennis and Minnie Mae. And Morris' and Wilma's sons: Kenneth and Karl. Minnie E. Cope lives at 4524 Greenwood Rd. Shreveport, La. and Morris' wife, Wilma and boys, Kenneth and Karl live with her. Minnie and her husband, James B. Cope had one child, Morris, born in 1912 and died in 1960 in Shreveport, La.

After Many years on the farm they moved to Avinger and Uncle Allison became Post Master until his death in 1912, then Minnie became Post Mistress for many years and afterwards was for several years in the Home Finding Society for Orphans in Jennings, La. Minnie has spent so much of her life caring for he family.

Lela married Claude Adams Aug 18, 1901 and Claude died Sept. 21, 1937. After several years Lela married April 17, 1939. She never had any children. Mr. Delaney , her second husband died Aug 12, 1951. And Lela died in her home in Shreveport March 25, 1959. Lela and Anna were fine women and religious and ready to go when they were called. Minnie is more like my mother in her religious and Spiritual interests than any one else in her family. She always wanted to be a Missionary, but never realized her hope and calling, but helped to satisfy that urge by her loyalty to her family and her church. She is a natural musician, on piano, organ and violin. At many violin contests she won first prizes. She is a great reader of books, especially the Bible and is given to prayer and religious interests. She writes a great deal and has a wide list of correspondence even at the age of 80 years.

Time and space forbid me writing all I could wish to say about this fine family, especially about Minnie and Wilma and the boys, but I have to confine myself to statistical items mostly.

There follows on next page a list of figures relating to them.

MARY JANE HOOTON Born Dec. 22, 1864.

She was the only one of the family born in Texas, all others were born in Henry County , Ga. and left there in 1856. Her mother died when she was ten years old and she and her father made their home with Uncle John and Aunt Mary. Grand Father never married again. Mary Jane went to Daingerfield to a Boarding School when she was between 15 and 16 and lived with her Aunt Elizabet Ferguson. While there she met my Father, A. G. Hervey and they married in 1880. There first home was three miles from Daingerfield in Morri Co. near Pappy Hervey, my Grand Father, and Uncle Thomas Hervey my father's only brother. It was there that I was born on Dec. 22, 1882. Also my sister, Mary Anna was born there in 1885 on Feb. 20th. Soon after we moved to the Billy Hooton place near Grand Father Hooton's and Uncle John and Aunt Sally Edwards. My father bought the place from Uncle Billy and he moved his family to the Mitche;; place near Hope School house. I believe Anna Bell Mary, Willie, and Scypretto were born at this place we bought.

We all attended Harris Chapel and before we moved we attended Bradfield's Chapel where the Herveys attended.

At this old place, we called it, Oney S. was born May 11, 1889. Florie Elizabeth was born there and died as a little child. Also Beulah Laney was born there on March 6, 1894. She was named Laney for Mrs. Bolton who stayed with Mama awhile. Papa bught the Jim Glover place in two miles of Hughes Springs in 1897. John Morris was born there Feb. 11, 1898. William Lester also was born and died there as a small child. Willie and Florie are buried at Harris Chapel. My father bought a home in Hughes Springs when I was about 18 years old where they lived for about fifty years and where they both died. The youngest, Albert Eugene was born at this home in Sept. 1906. Mother died here on Palm Sunday, March 17, 1940 and went marching into the New Jerusalem having her Triumphal entry into that City.My Father had them sing at her funeral that old Hymn: "How Blest the Righteous when they die--" Father was 83 when she died and lived a lonely life for six years longer and passed away April 17, 1946. MORE ABOUT THIS FAMILY IN THE HERVEY FAMILY HISTORY WHICH WILL BE OUT SOON.

In this document I have usually written in the first person, so for you to understand the relationship remember that Rev. Soloman O'Dell was my Great Grand Father and that James Hooton, Jr. was my Grand Father. Write me, my address is on first page.

OBITUARY OF JAMES HOOTON, Jr.

James Hooton was born Nov. 10, 1825 in Henry County Ga. and died September the 27th., 1886. He professed religion early in life and lived a happy, consistent Christian until the message came which bade him lay his armour down. Brother Hooton was a member of of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South at Harris Chapel. He was always at his post to lead the congregation in singing, but now he is gone and who, who Oh who, can fill his place?

His well ordered walk, his Godly conversation, and the melody of his voice in song were a power for good in the church and community. He was universally beloved, and was regarded by all who knew him, as a model of Christian excellence. He was a good citizen, a kind neighbor, a true friend, a loving father, and an humble Christian. What nobler epitaph could be written?

When asked concerning his prospects, he said :--"I am patient and reconciled. Everything is just right." Just before he died, he said: "I am happy, if I had strength I would sing". He then repeated this hymn:

"My Latest sun is sinking fast,
My race is nearly run."

He then exclaimed: "Hallelujah" and calmly passed away.

His remains were carried to the church, where amid the tears and sobs of family and friends, we preached his funeral sermon and sang in sad refrain his funeral dirge, and gently laid down to rest, "to await the resurrection morn."

W. A. COPPEDGE
His Pastor.

I read this obituary at the Harris Chapel Home coming service on May 7, 1961 where I preached the sermon and where Great Grand Father O'Dell preached the first sermon in the new church 102 yrs. before. James W. Hervey .

I wish to thank the following for valuable help in furnishing me with information for this document. I ask that whoever receives this History that you keep it and cherish it for the Family History for the children now living and who shall yet be born.

Nancy Lee Hooten b 2Mar 1864 Pike, Ga m. John Thomas Jordan b. 30 july 1861 Pike
2 Dec. 1884

In 1880 Census, Pike Co., Ga.--'E.M.Hooten 42 yrs. Minister b. Ga.
Sarah 42 yrs.
(nine children listed--oldest 19yr.-----
'Nany' 15' (youngest listed 'Susie 3yr')

Nancy Lee Hooten, daughter of Enoch Milton Hooten died 5 Feb. 1945 Molena,Pike,Ga.

In 1850 Census--find-'Jms. Hooten 62 Farmer b. N. C. (ca. 1788) elswhere Henry Co.--S. A. 51 b. N. C. (S. James Hooten's w. is listed/as Susannah Kidd--~~maybe 2nd wife~~?)
E. M.' (Enoch Milton) listed 12 yrs. b. Ga. (ca.1838)
(one other son listed-'J. H. 10 yr. b. Ga.'

Find, in 1840 Census, Henry Co.,Ga-- James Hooten ca.'of 50 & under 60 yrs'
my James would be ca 52yrs.
BUT-no son listed of 2 or 3 yrs. which would be Enoch M.

Find in 1830 Census, Henry Co., Ga-- James Hooten 'of 40 and under 50' which is right for my James-listed with 4 young males-w/3 females under 20; 1 female 'of 30/40' which fits the 'S.A.' listed in 1850

In Henry Co. History--pg. 22--It lists James Hooten as coming from S. C.(could I have read the Census wrong? Also said that they were from 'Chester and Lancaster Co., S. C. and settled near Mt. Bethel Church---

pg. 24 says James Hooten and his wife Susan Kidd came in ox-carts from South Carolina. Ref. is the DAR Coll. on Newton Co. Dept. of Archives

pg. 66 on articles on Snapping Shoals, from Gazetteer of Georgia by Sherwood, in 1837 it says that many of the first settlers around Snapping Shoals were Presbyterians and attend Hopewell Associated Reform Presbyterian Church just across the river in Newton Co. (Enoch M. was a devoted Presb. but turned later 10yrs old to Baptist. The article does not list a Hooten. But it does say that among the early settlers on the Henry Co. side of the river was Samuel P. Hooten. In 1893, S. P. Hooten 'ginnery going full force.'
